De Gaulle Cuts Visit Short In Ire Over Pearson Retort

Both Negro, White Snipers Trading Shots With Troops

DETROIT (UPI)—Negro snipers, firing in squads from the ruins of Detroit's smouldering Negro ghetto, fought guerrilla battles today with the Army, National Guard and police. White men, too, fired on the troops battling to bring peace to the Motor City.

The official death toll after four nights of rioting in the nation's fifth largest city stood at 33. The unofficial count was much higher as tanks rumbled through the streets and machine gun and rifle fire crackled before dawn over a 200-square-block riot zone four miles west of downtown Detroit.

The end was not in sight and all indications were that the Detroit insurrection would surpass Watts as the worst race riot in the nation's history. Over six days in 1965, 35 persons died and $200 million damage was wreaked in Watts, Calif. Detroit's damage figure had surpassed that amount and the death toll was believed to be greater.

Three white snipers were arrested today, surrendering to a national guard tank crew which riddled their hiding place with bullets.

Authorities were in control of the West Side riot area, but proclaimed no victory. That would depend on what happens in the fighting zone tonight.

Most of the 4,700-man contingent of army paratroopers ordered in by President Johnson were on duty today, many concentrated in the West Side battle area.

A 4-year-old Negro girl, Tonya Bandling, was killed by a bullet from a high powered rifle as she cowered on the floor of her family's apartment in the riot area. The child's aunt suffered a severe arm wound trying to rush to her aid.

ONLOOKER KILLED

A white woman, Mrs. Helen M. Hall, 50, Oakdale, Conn., was fatally wounded as she stood in the window of a midtown motel watching a battle between snipers, police and guardsmen.

Damage estimates in the 139 square mile city were far more than $200,000 million. Detroit Board of Commerce President Dwight Havens said a long range estimate of the loss "could reach $1 billion."

The battle ground last night and early today was a seething West Side ghetto where the riots first began Sunday.

MOTEL SLAUGHTER

Three Negro youths were found killed by shotgun blasts in a Detroit motel, scene of an earlier battle between authorities and snipers. Guardsmen shot and killed two men who tried to crash a roadblock. A looter also was fatally wounded.

Sniper bands opened fire on two police precinct stations, a fire station and a national guard command post at a newly constructed high school.

Violence also continued in at least six other Michigan cities and towns—Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Flint, Mount Clemens, Benton Harbor and Muskegon.

COMBINED AP & UPI

The nation's midsummer nightmare of violence continued today with fresh outbreaks occurring as rapidly as other disturbances were put down.

Besides the rioting in Detroit, 12 other cities reported outbreaks last night while order was restored to three other cities in which violence erupted Monday night.

Other cities caught up in the wave of racial violence last night included: Chicago, where Negroes set fires and looted stores; Saginaw, Mich., where eight persons were shot; Grand Rapids and Mount Clemens, Mich.; Toledo, Dayton and Lima, Ohio; New York City and Rochester, N.Y.; Sacramento, Calif.; Cambridge, Md., and Phoenix, Ariz. (See story and picture page 6.)

It was the most widespread outbreak of racial violence since the 1870s and 1880s when whites in several southern cities killed hundreds of Negroes and attempts to overthrow Reconstruction governments.

There were at least eight persons shot and wounded in Saginaw, Mich., and another three in Grand Rapids.

Chicago's West Side was the scene of sporadic looting but police said they confined the outbreak to a five-block area.

Congressional leaders in Washington haggled yesterday over who was to take the political blame for the city rioting as they moved to set up the machinery to investigate the street violence.

Relative peace also prevailed after nights of disturbances in Englewood, N.J., Pontiac, Mich., and Rochester, N.Y.

In Saginaw, Mich., police said at least eight persons were shot and wounded during a siege of sniper firing. Hundreds of Negroes roamed through the city, 100 miles northwest of Detroit, after an abortive sit-in.

Three Negroes were shot and wounded in Grand Rapids while trying to reason with an angry crowd. Police said they were hit by sniper fire. They were members of a volunteer group trying to convince troublemakers to stay home.

There were 42 major fires during the second day of violence in the western Michigan city.

Waukegan, Ill., police were reinforced by 130 officers from neighboring cities last night to forestall further vandalism, fire bombings and rock throwing which occurred during the past two days.

There were firebombings in Toledo, Ohio, where National Guard troops were on a "standby" basis at the city armory. Negro youths went on a window-smashing spree in Mt Vernon, N.Y.

Black Power advocate Stokely Carmichael, in Havana for a conference, was quoted by the Cuban news agency Presna Latina yesterday as saying American Negroes are organizing urban guerrillas for "a fight to the death."

French Chief Refuses To See Top Canadian

MONTREAL (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle, angered by a rebuke from the Canadian government over his conduct on his visit here, decided to call off a scheduled trip to Ottawa and to return to Paris later today.

De Gaulle had been scheduled to go to Ottawa this afternoon and to confer tomorrow morning with Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson and his cabinet.

PEARSON CRITICAL

Pearson last night issued a statement sharply critical of de Gaulle's speeches exhorting French Canadian nationalism which he had delivered ever since his arrival in Quebec City Sunday morning.

Pearson said that Canada was already free and did not need France to liberate her.

A press officer in de Gaulle's party announced abruptly this morning that the President would return to Paris by plane this afternoon.

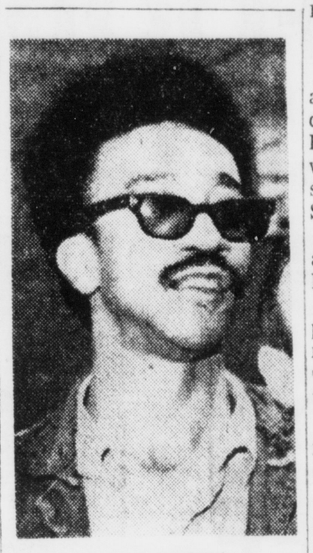
IGNITES UPROAR

De Gaulle touched off an uproar in Canada Monday night at his reception at the Montreal city hall when he shouted the slogan "Vive le Quebec libre" (Long Live Free Quebec). It is the rallying cry of the separatists who would split the 80 per cent French speaking province of Quebec from the remainder of Canada.

After a cabinet meeting and hours of deliberation, Pearson yesterday replied bluntly that De Gaulle should stay out of Canada's internal affairs.

Pearson was informed of De Gaulle's decision at 9 a.m. and he summoned the cabinet into session. A statement from the Prime Minister was expected later.

De Gaulle's "Quebec Libre" speech had resulted in a rash of threats against his life. There had been a flood of telegrams and telephone calls to Pearson's office, many of them from French-Canadians angry at De Gaulle's actions.



H. RAP BROWN

FBI Arrests Rap Brown: Riot Charge

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Brown was taken into custody at Washington National Airport about 10 a.m. EDT.

Brown, national chairman on the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, has been charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, based on a local Maryland warrant which charged Brown with inciting arson at Cambridge.

The FBI said Brown would be arraigned by a U.S. commissioner in Alexandria, Va., immediately.

Brown spoke to a crowd of 400 in Cambridge for 45 minutes Monday night. About an hour later 1,000 Negroes rioted for two hours and a fire spread along two blocks of Pine Street, destroying about a dozen buildings.

Brown was named yesterday in state warrants charging him with inciting a riot and "counseling and procuring the burning of the Pine Street Elementary School."

Quarrel Leads To Gunplay On Gate Span

Charles McCoy, 34, was critically wounded at 6 a.m. today on the Golden Gate Bridge when a woman passenger in his car shot him, then calmly turned the gun over to bridge toll-takers, San Francisco police reported.

McCoy was reported in critical condition with two gunshot wounds, one in the right arm and one in the abdomen at San Francisco General Hospital.

San Francisco police reported that, as McCoy's northbound car approached the bridge toll plaza, toll takers heard the sound of a gunshot.

Running to the car, they saw McCoy slump over behind the wheel. Lola Grimes, 28, of San Francisco handed them the gun without a word, police said.

California Highway Patrol officer Louis R. Cantarutti was first to arrive on the scene and took Miss Grimes into custody. She was turned over to San Francisco police and taken to the city jail where she was booked for attempted murder and held.

Ike Suggests FBI Riot Probe

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the FBI should be empowered to take action against what he feels may be an organized pattern to race rioting that is hitting American cities.

Airport Boosters Endorse New Plan

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The Marin County Aviation Commission last night went on record by 6-0 vote for construction of an air strip parallel to the main Hamilton Air Force Base runway and for development of an adjoining industrial park.

Chairman Joseph W. Wright said he would attempt to obtain concurrence of commissioner Richard P. Nave, who was absent, to make the resolution unanimous.

It declared that:

"From this day, a primary aim of Marin County is to be the creation of a large industrial park-general aviation complex in the area south of Bel Marin Keys and east of Hamilton Air Force Base, and to that end all county departments, the aviation commission, and all other associations and citizens of Marin are urged to contribute in whatever way each can, that this goal may be realized in the near future."

Commissioner Benjamin R. Ostlind presented the resolution, already prepared. He has long been an advocate of development of a strip parallel to the Hamilton main runway, and at one time urged it be given priority over developing the county airport at Novato.

In adopting the resolution, the commission also authorized Ostlind to present it to the county board of supervisors. He made this part of his motion for adoption.

The resolution makes no mention of joint operation with the Air Force — a part of Ostlind's proposal of two years ago that engendered opposition in both military and civilian circles.

Mental Center Slide Study Awaits Funds

Marin County supervisors — disturbed over a slide threat above the Community Mental Health Center site in Greenbrae — searched in vain for a prompt remedy yesterday.

The slide warning was sounded by representatives of the Marin Hospital District Board, who asked the supervisors to participate in a soil study of a menancing hill east of the $1.6 million center, now under construction.

Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Peter H. Behr, arguing that apartment house development on the top of the hill posed the threat, said developer Niels Schultz Jr. should pay for the study.

However, county Public Works Director Donald R. Frost noted that perviously excavated property owned by Marin General Hospital at the lower portion of the hill also could slip and urged a joint soils study by Schultz and the hospital district.

Neither Frost nor County Administrator Alan Bruce could justify use of county money for the soil work, even though the supervisors have agree to contribute $350,000 toward construction costs. The center is being built on Marin General Hospital property, and will be operated by the district.

The supervisors, after failing to resolve the question as to who would be responsible for a slide, voted to ask County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and the hospital district attorney to approach Schultz about taking protective measures, although it was noted he already has employed a soils engineer for his property. The City of Larkspur, where the apartment

Husband Saves Wife From Blaze

Mrs. Audrey Fowler was unhurt. Fowler told firemen he arrived home from work at 10:30 p.m. to find the house filled with smoke.

Repulsed by smoke at the front door, Fowler raced around to the back of the house and led his wife from a rear bedroom after arousing her. He then called firemen.

The blaze was controlled immediately, although damage was estimated at $3,000. A lighted cigarette left by a daughter in a front bedroom was blamed for the fire. Mrs. Fowler was alone in the house at the time of the blaze.

A son, Kenneth A. Fowler, is a Terra Linda fireman and was notified of the fire at his home at 101 Nova Albion Way by emergency radio. He sped to the scene.

Oakland Again Hit By 'Bombs'

OAKLAND (UPI) — Molotov cocktails were thrown through windows of eight North Oakland homes, businesses and city buildings last night, causing about $4,000 damage.

The fire bombs were tossed in the same general area as three Molotov cocktails which caused minor damage Monday night.

THE BLACK GHETTO EXPLOSION

Eyes Tell Tale Of Hatred In Detroit

By LOUIS CASSELS

DETROIT (UPI)—The look in a Negro man's eyes told me yesterday how a black ghetto can explode.

It was a case of what Negroes call police brutality.

Police stupidity might be a better label.

The tensions in the heart of Detroit's riot zone, 12th Street and Clairmount, had perceptively lessened yesterday afternoon.

The biggest crowd UPI reporter Mike Conlon and I had encountered was lined up outside an ice cream parlor which had just received a fresh shipment of butter pecan.

A worried-looking, middle-aged Negro man told us, "Things have calmed down a lot. I think the worst is over."

At this point, a Negro man who had evidently been drinking heavily began haranguing the ice cream parlor crowd. We didn't get there in time to hear what he was saying. But spectators told us he was trying to stir up trouble.

Police from one of the numerous blue squad cars patroling the area arrested him immediately. He was shoved roughly into the back seat and handcuffed to the door post.

For some unfathomable reason, the squad car did not move away. Soon there were seven scout cars and about 15 rifle wielding police facing a solid but sullen crowd of about 100 persons.

"In heaven's name why don't they get him out of here before they provoke another riot," Conlon said.

A short, thicknecked white city policeman in riot helmet yelled back, "Shut up." Apparently the prisoner made some obscene reference to the policeman's ancestry."

"You can't call my mother that, you black bastard. I won't kill you in front of these newspaper reporters but I'll shut your mouth," the policeman screamed with an angry glance in our direction.

With that he thrust the butt of his rifle into the car and smashed the handcuffed Negro prisoner in the face—again and again and again.

Just then another policeman came toward us with his rifle and suggested, very forcibly, that we "Move on . . . please."

As we walked away I looked into the eyes of a Negro man who had watched the episode. What I saw went a long way towards explaining how a black ghetto can explode.

RELIGIOUS MARCH — A nun walks among residents of New York's Spanish Harlem as a religious procession appears to win the rioting mob. Today the riot-torn streets were almost calm after three days. (AP Wirephoto)

East Harlem Almost Calm From Rioting

NEW YORK (AP) — Candles flickered red and gold where gunfire had flashed and the chant in the riot-worn streets came slowly, reverently, "Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee." Calm almost was back in Spanish Harlem.

The voices last night were those of priests, nuns and 600 Puerto Ricans and their children who sang and carried hand-painted pictures of saints through the slum area that rocked with violence for three straight days.

A bottle smashed at the feet of one of the marchers, teenagers clapped their hands rhythmically to upset them, and a policeman was struck on the arm by a rock. But the restrained mood of the procession, helped by a heavy rain squall, appeared to win the crowd. El Barrio—Spanish for the neighborhood—stayed nearly quiet.

Police hunted for a sniper who fired three wild shots, arrested a man who they said threw a fire bomb, and again faced barrages of bottles. They did not use their own guns, however, and reported no looting.

In the heavily Puerto Rican South Bronx, where the disorders had spread Monday, a fire bomb thrown through an elementary school window started a small blaze that was quickly extinguished. Later, a Puerto Rican was shot and killed nearby by a Negro patrolman, but police said the incident was apparently unrelated to the disturbances.

Before the marchers began their slow trip, the procession's organizer, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Fox told them in Spanish, "If Christ had the courage to offer His head to a crown of thorns we can offer our heads to thrown bottles."

"We are trying to get the testimony of the community to a real commitment of peace," he said.

Two deaths have been counted in the riots, the worst in the city since 1964 when Negroes in central Harlem burned, looted and fought with police.

The rioting was touched off shortly after midnight Saturday when a Puerto Rican was shot and killed by off-duty patrolmen who said he tried to attack them with a knife.

Million-Strong Mao Backers Rally In Survival Gathering

HONG KONG (UPI)—Supporters of Chinese Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung staged a million-man troop rally in Peking in their fight to survive a reported Red army rebellion, Peking Radio said today.

Instead of trumpeting as usual claims of Mao's mastery of his troubled land, Peking Radio spoke almost defensively about the capital rally. It warned darkly about an army of a million opposing the leader in the key central China city of Wuhan.

Right-wing newspapers in Hong Kong quoted travelers as reporting more than 1,000 killed or injured in fights between Mao supporters and Red army troops along the rail line from this British Colony to the big southern Chinese city of Canton.

The dramatic reports of big trouble on mainland China erupted as diplomatic sources in London reported Mao's regime on the brink of toppling. In Washington, American authorities said Mao's cultural revolution—his struggle for power—may be in its death throes.

The Washington authorities said Mao's failure to win Red army support in several strategic areas underlined a trend in Communist China toward fragmentation into something akin to the old war lord situation of prerevolution days.

Freedom Short For Two Teens

Two 16-year-old boys leaped over an eight-foot fence at Juvenile Hall after they had eaten dinner Monday night but were captured and returned to the hall within an hour.

San Rafael Police received a call at 7:15 p.m. from James L. Ryan, 181 Lucas Park, that the youths tried to enter his house but, when denied entrance, ran over his back yard fence. One boy was discovered hiding under some lumber at a construction site on Las Gallinas Avenue; the other boy collapsed from exhaustion on the sidewalk nearby.

Kappas Sues To Stall Canal Dredging Job

George Kappas, owner of the Kappas Yacht Harbor in Sausalito, filed a suit against Marin County Board of Supervisors in superior court today in an effort to prevent start of the Richardson Bay Channel dredging project.

The board June 27 passed a resolution agreeing to the formation of an assessment district to finance dredging of Saucelito Canal from Marinship to Mill Valley.

Kappas charges the project will require the destruction of part of his yacht harbor and prevent proper access to Richardson Bay.

RAPS TAXES

He called his $25,000 assessment under the proposed district "excessive" and said the project would result in the taking of his property "without just compensation."

The suit asks for judgment declaring the board of supervisors resolution unconstitutional and void. In passing it, he said, board members "abused the discretion vested in the board of supervisors."

According to the yacht owner, the plan was inequitable because boundaries of the assessment district excluded those who would benefit by the project and included properties — such as his own — which he claimed would be damaged.

In passing the action, Kappas said he had sustained "great and irreparable injury." He asked for an injunction to prevent the county from enforcing the supervisors resolution.

LONG PLANNED

Dredging of the Saucelito Canal has been in the planning stages since 1961. It is expected to be complete by the end of next year.

Sixty-four per cent of the 80 property owners in the 1,182-acre district have signed petitions seeking the formation of an assessment district. With more than 60 per cent participation, an election will not be necessary, said Jesper C. Strandgaard, engineer for the proposed district.

The 12,000-foot-long channel is to be 150 feet wide from the Army Corps of Engineers turning basin in Marinship to Richardson Bay Bridge, and 100 feet wide from the bridge to the Mill Valley small crafts harbor.

The channel would permit development of small craft facilities now prohibited in the upper reach of Richardson Bay because present navigation is permited to boats with limited draft only even at high tide.

Three Injured When Auto Leaves Road

A Novato girl and two passengers were injured at 7:10 p.m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding skidded into the bank on White's Hill west of Fairfax.

Linda Anne Schlosser, 16, of 275 San Felipe Way, Novato, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple cuts and scrapes.

She told California Highway Patrol she had turned to look at another car that pulled off the road, lost control of her eastbound vehicle which skidded off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard into the bank.

Middle School Costs Told To Trustees

Mill Valley School District may have to spend $447,000 just to acquire a site for its "middle school" in Project 17, it was learned today.

In an appraisal given trustees Monday night, Edward P. Morphy said in his preliminary study of the land he appraised a 11.4 acre Pacific Gas and Electric Co. site at $400,000 and a three-acre site owned by the Biggio family at $47,000. District trustees previously talked of acquiring the site by merely exchanging district land with private land owners.

Bears often increase their body weight from 30 to 35 per cent from September to January, their prehibernation period.

B52s Brave Missiles In North Viet Raids

SAIGON (UPI)For the first time in three months U.S. Air Force B52s bombed North Vietnam today. The giant jets braved the threat of missiles and struck just above the North-South Vietnam border, U.S. spokesmen said.

The Stratofortresses struck twice, hitting North Vietnamese invasion army positions threatening American Marines below the border.

The main targets of the eight-engine strategic Air Force bombers, which each carry up to 60,000 pounds in bombs, were the Communists' giant 130mm artillery guns. Planted in deep bunkers and caves, the big guns have been raining shells with deadly accuracy on the Leatherneck border fortresses of Con Thien, Gio Linh and Camp Carrol.

U.S. generals ordered the Stratoforts away from North Vietnamese targets three months ago when the Communists moved down to the border the Surface to Air Missiles (SAM) that formed the first real threat to the giant American planes.

After six weeks the B52s returned to pounding Communist positions just below the border. Smaller, swifter American jets had been working on the SAM sites.

The antimissile bombing paid off today.

The big bombers are reported to be the American weapon the Communist troops fear the most. They fly so high that the only sign of their presence is the explosion of their bombs.

Five of the giant bombers have crashed since they entered the war June 18, 1966. None has been shot down by the Communists.

The last previous B52 raid against North Vietnam was April 24.

Two smaller American jets went down in other raids yesterday as American pilots flew 126 missions against North Vietnam. The raids hit trucks, barges, transport routes and supply dumps.

In the Saigon area, guerrilla terrorists for the second time within hours dressed in South Vietnamese uniforms and attacked a capital suburb. Spokesmen said that last night a Viet Cong band intercepted and seized a government ambulance, filled it with armed men and rode it like a Trojan horse into a government army-police post at Thoi Tam Thon Village on the outskirts.

They mowed down eight police and inflicted "heavy" casualties on a South Vietnamese militia platoon. They smashed into an armory, stole 10 weapons and wounded a civilian.

The twin raids followed massive allied antiguerrilla sweeps around Saigon. The attacks appeared to the Viet Cong's attempt to reassert its rule of terror in the suburbs.

Downtown Detroit, as was the case yesterday, looked almost normal today. Freeways had the heaviest traffic so far this week. Many businesses opened for the first time since the riots began Sunday.

A brilliant sun broke through a morning haze, but the Weather Bureau said there was a possibility of thunder storms late in the afternoon or evening. The forecast raised hopes that rain could ease the tension which has worsened with the presence of 13,000 federal troops, guardsmen and police.

Double Duo Concert At Club

Marin's newest chamber music group, a double duo, will present the first of its "music for Summer Evenings" concerts tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

The double duo is composed of violinist Charles Meacham and his wife, Robaline Meacham, and violist Lucien Mitchell and his wife, Jean Maguire Mitchell, all of Mill Valley.

Featured in the duo's programs will be piano quartets.

Waiter Remains In Fair Condition

Frank Franulic, 22, of 264 Circle Drive, Tiburon, was reported still in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital where he was admitted July 18 with multiple burns on his face, hands and chest.

Franulic, a waiter at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, suffered the burns when a can of Nethanol exploded as he lighted a flaming dessert.

Guns, TV, Camera, Tape Set Stolen

Betz left home at 10 a.m. and discovered the burglary on returning at 3:30 p.m. necessity parallel that at Hamilton. The same control tower could control both strips.

In urging the resolution, Ostlind contended that now that the county is committed "and we have plenty of bulldozers on the scene" to develop the Novato airport, a "reaffirmation" of the need for development adjoining Hamilton is needed.

"This is a long-range thing that must be brought into focus soon," he declared.

Only objections of commissioners were to wording that some felt denigrated the role of the Novato airport. This was changed. As adopted, the resolution says:

"The construction of the Novato facility will satisfy the most urgent needs of the private and businessman aircraft owners, but an additional and larger facility is needed to attract major industry."

Marin City Has Rash Of Small Fires

A rash of small fires again spread through Marin City beginning around noon yesterday, and by the early hours this morning the harassed Marin County County Fire Department had answered eight alarms in the area.

Chief Louis J. Bloom reported that the fires are all under investigation, and he now has no evidence to show they were set or accidental.

The largest blaze came at 12:26 p.m. when a grass fire that burned one acre was reported on the hill behind 69 Cole Drive. Firemen later found matches scattered in the area, according to Chief Bloom.

Three small grass fires broke out in the 400 block of Drake Avenue at 4:22 p.m., 9:25 p.m. and 11:20 p.m.

Other fires were reported sporadically through the night in refuse, a garbage can in the 200 block of Drake Avenue at 9:33 p.m. and another garbage can near a Drake Avenue beauty shop at 11:57 p.m.

Fires also hit two apartment buildings, one at 55 Rodeo Avenue at 11:32 p.m. and another at 59 Cole Drive at 1:15 a.m.

Two Men Added To Death Row

Two more convicts arrived on San Quentin's Death Row last night after being sentenced yesterday in Monterey Superior Court for stabbing a fellow prisoner 48 times at the correctional facility at Soledad.

William Noah, a youth authority ward, was serving a life sentence for assaulting a correctional officer with a knife and an escape attempt from the Monterey County Jail in which he attacked two sheriff's deputies with his fist.

Ralph Chacon, 23, was serving a life sentence for iklling another inmate and assaulting a correctional officer.

Boy Still Missing

Wayne Lamont Fuller, 13, son of T/Sgt. and Mrs. Donald L. Fuller of 336 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, is still missing from his home today after leaving it Monday, according to polce reports. He was listed as a runaway by Novato police.

OBITUARIES

Crash Kills Edwin Giesecke

Edwin Charles Giesecke, member of a pioneer Mill Valley family, was killed yesterday when his car collided head-on with a tractor-trailer 20 miles east of Sacramento.

Giesecke, 65, died instantly, said Raymond J. Thielen, Sacramento County deputy coroner. The accident happened at 8:15 a.m. on Highway 16, a two-lane road, three-quarters of a mile east of Bridgehouse.

Giesecke apparently was enroute to Jackson in Amador County, where he recently bought some property. He was planning to sell his home at 425 Throckmorton Avenue and move to Jackson.

It was not determined how the accident happened, Thielen said. The truck driver was not injured.

A native of San Francisco, Giesecke worked for the City of Mill Valley from 1951 until last December, when he retired as a senior operator at the sewage treatment plant.

Giesecke's family moved to Mill Valley in 1890. His great-uncle, Carl Mayer, built a house which still stands at 130 Cascade Drive.

He was a life member of Mill Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

He was a bachelor, and had no known immediate survivors.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Friday at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Tulocay Cemetery, Napa. Friends may call at the mortuary after noon tomorrow.

house will be built, also should be asked to investigate, the supervisors directed. A report was asked for Tuesday's meeting.

Cost estimates of a soils study have ranged from $2,500 to $5,000, with the hospital board expressing concern at a recent meeting that the expense of shoring up the hill might deplete a $52,000 contingency fund for the project before construction is well under way.

Bucket Seats Taken From Car At Night

A neighbor, Hans Wachsmuth, of 21 Andrew Drive, called deputies at 3 a.m. to report seeing two men unloading something from a car, but when deputies arrived, the men were gone.

HERBERT SCHWARZENBERG

Herbert Schwarzenberg, 76, of Mill Valley, was found dead yesterday afternoon in a neighbor's apartment. He had a heart condition and apparently died of natural causes, the county coroner's office reported.

Schwarzenberg apparently awoke sick early yesterday and went for help to a neighbor, Mrs. Helen McChesney of 24 Lower Alcatraz Place, the coroner's office speculated. She was away overnight, however, and found his body in her apartment when she returned home late yesterday.

A native of Germany, Schwarzenberg was a retired printer. He resided at 28 Lower Alcatraz.

He had no known immediate survivors.

KENNETH HARRIS

Kenneth E. Harris, retired Sausalito sea captain, died at his home yesterday after a short illness.

Harris, of 109 Bulkley Avenue, was a Merchant Marine captain on the Greenland and Mormansk runs early in World War II and later in the war served in the South Pacific as a civilian skipper under both Army and Navy commands.

He was a native of California and had lived in Marin for 15 years. He is survived by his wife, Frances Quelle Harris of Sausalito.

Private funeral was held at the Frank J. Keaton Mortuary, Sausalito. Inurnment was private.

CHARLES ELLIOTT

He was a member of the Native Sons of the Golden West Sea Point Parlor 158, Sausalito Lions Club, Foresters of America, and Christ Episcopal Church of Sausalito.

He is survived by his wife, Caroline P. Elliottof Sausalito; three children, Robert J. Elliott, Mrs. Norma Verducci and Mrs. Inez LeForge; two brothers, William S. and P. J. Elliott; three sisters, Margaret Elliott, Mrs. Alice Bridges and Mrs. Elizabeth Farrell, and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito. Inurnment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. Sea Point Parlor N.S.G.W. will hold services at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Frank J. Keaton Mortuary, Sausalito.

The family prefers contributions to the Hanna Boys Center, Sonoma County.

Red Ink Figures For Western Week

Novato's Western Week celebration this year spent approximately $2,167 more than it took in and will wind up about $500 in debt.

That was reported at a board meeting of Western Weekend Inc. Monday night. John Gilmore, president of the corporation, has called a general meeting of the 17-member organizations for Aug. 14 to see how this year's debt can be paid.

The celebration has taken in $12,389 and has approximately $700 more due it from booths and concessions, said Charles F. Douglas, treasurer.

The bills so far amount to $14,556 and they are not all in yet, Douglas said. It will take about $500 more money to make the celebration break even, he said.

"We spent more money this year to change the image of Western Weekend and it hasn't paid off," Gilmore said.

He said that he did not feel that the future of the celebration was in doubt.

"We'll pull through it somehow; there are too many people who put too much work into it to let it go down the drain," he said.

Income received so far was listed as: city contribution, $1,020; county contribution, $750; operating dues, $365; ridge run, $42; booths and concessions, $2,971; commercial booths, $1,340; carnival, $5,526; and promotion and miscellaneous, $375.

Expenses were listed as: operating and miscellaneous, $2,252; parade, $2,149; queen contest, $228; grounds, $3,319; beard contest, $154; publicity and promotion, $6,110; commercial booths, $83; booths and concessions, $211; and family day $50.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Petty Theft

Carol Faye Hernandez of 75-E Red Hill Circle, Tiburon, changed her plea in Marin Superior Court yesterday from innocent of a felony worthless checks charge to guilty of misdemeanor petty theft.

A probation report was ordered and judgement set for Sept. 11 at 9:30 a.m. The original indictment alleged she passed a $103.50 check to defraud Wonderful World of Wigs.

Home Is Looted

A burglar, who entered through an unlocked bathroom window, stole a mink coat, otter jacket, television set and clothing worth more than $3,000 from the home of Frederick Lyon, 652 Sausalito Boulevard, Sausalito, during the weekend, police reported. Lyon discovered the burglary on arriving home yesterday from a four-day vacation.

$198,000 Tag On Furnishing Justice Hall

A hefty price tag of nearly $200,000 was placed yesterday on about half of the furniture for the new Hall of Justice at the Marin County Civic Center.

The board of supervisors approved, with little discussion a contract with California Correctional Industries, a state agency, to build walnut cabinets, counters and assorted woodwork for $198,473. Installation costs will be separate, as will price for moveable furniture.

To meet the contract, the supervisors drew $41,474 from the Hall of Justice reserve fund. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows explained that a previous budget allocation of $157,000 for the equipment was in error because it omitted furnishings outside the jail and courtrooms.

The contractor, who also helped outfit the administration building at the Civic Center, is a division of the California Department of Corrections, training released state prisoners in woodworking and normally dealing on a no-bid basis with public agencies.

As in the case of the administration building, no bids were taken for the furniture. Barrows explained the county preferred a better quality product that required special work. Woodwork for courtrooms, judges' chambers and a law library was priced at $132,259, with jail furniture fixed at $17,000.

Entry Deadline Set For Cat Competition

Marin County Cat Fanciers announced Tuesday, Aug. 15, as the deadline for entries in its fourth annual pet cat show, in the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center on Sunday, Sept. 3.

The show is open to any cat older than three months. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. George Stevenson, 848 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, or Mrs. Arne Kionig, 121 Terrace Avenue, Kentfield.

Employee Pay Control Goes To Supervisors

Marin supervisors moved yesterday to halt further overtime and contractual wage disputes with county employees that arose in connection with the Community Mental Health Services Department.

A measure giving the supervisors control over such pay requests was approved unanimously.

The action grew out of contention by Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, that three psychiatrists were improperly collecting overtime. One, Dr. Robert A. Ott of Kentfield, employed in the mental health department, was subsequntly denied extra pay by the supervisors, although Dr. Donald A. Young of Sausalito, also assigned to the mental health staff, and Dr. Philip Hicks of Ross, a staff member in the family rehabilitation center, won some or all of their claims.

An ordinance drawn by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney at the supervisors' request gives the board power to authorize claims for contractural services to the county while an employee is off duty and to review overtime requests by full-time employees who served other departments.

Services to Medi-Cal and Medicare patients and testimony in Superior Court on county business while under contract would be excluded from the order.

County Administrator Alan Bruce was to have the power of review, but the supervisors amended the measure at the request of supervisors Peter H. Behr.

Illinois has more than 8 million people.

Business License Renewal Necessary

Business licenses in Novato become due and must be renewed by Tuesday of they become delinquent, Charles Foster, director of finance, announced today.

After that date there is a 10 per cent delinquency penalty charged, Foster said.

Notary Public

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Mary D. Nenno, care of Fairchild Semiconductor, P. O. Box 2009, San Rafael.

Come to our cookout...

Your backyard barbecues and patio parties are a smashing success when you serve lamb. Today's tender, young lamb is a natural for outdoor cooking.

Leg of lamb or one of those new boneless lamb roasts in stretch net for the rotisserie. Lamb steaks or chops for the grill. Flavorful lamb spareribs or riblets brushed with a tangy barbecue sauce. It's a wide and wonderful choice. And, did you know—this lamb that tastes so good is a good buy, too.

Less bone. Little waste.

More eatin' meat for your money.

That's lamb!

SOUTHWEST VIOLENCE — A motorist and his passenger narrowly escaped injury as their car is bombarded with objects in Phoenix, Ariz. Today police sealed off an area to check rioting. (AP Wirephoto)

Police Block Off Section Of Phoenix To Halt Riots

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)— Police blocked off a Negro area in east Phoenix early today after a group of dissident youths hurled firebombs and fired shots at police and bystanders.

The disturbance started late last night when a band of about 20 youths began throwing Molotov cocktails, rocks and bottles at passing cars and into the streets.

Police immediately closed the area to prevent the youths from leaving the scene, centered around a federal housing project.

Negro leaders had urged the mayor to schedule the meeting in hopes it might help quell the disturbance. However, early today the Negro youths again started throwing rocks at cars on U.S. 60 - 70, which borders the four-square-block area.

Two stores were broken into and police said looters were carrying away liquor and canned goods from one of them. A second group of youths set fire to a laundry.

A woman identified only as Glenna Wise of Ohio suffered cuts on both hands when a brick was thrown through the windshield of her car.

Small groups of Negro youths hurled several dozen Molotov cocktails, setting fire to at least two automobiles. Numerous shots were heard, but no one was reported wounded.

Bagley Predicts Modification Of Rumford Law In This Session

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said yesterday he "fully expects" that modifications of the Rumford Housing Act would be approved by the legislature this session.

A member of a three-man committee to work out amendments to the Rumford Act, Bagley said the modifications will probably include these three points:

1. Coverage of the bill will not be as stringent as the present Rumford Act, which prohibits discrimination in the sale or rental of single-family homes. A person or firm owning five or more housing units will be covered, but those who own four units or less will not be covered by the bill.

2. At present, anyone who feels he has been discriminated against files a complaint with the Fair Employment Practices Commission. Then comes a conciliation process, and if this fails, accusations and hearings are held by FEPC. The new bill would allow the property owner to either (a) go directly to court, or (b) continue with the present administrative procedures which are less formal and less costly.

3. Once a state policy on housing is established, the policy would be uniform so that local government cannot impose varying rules.

Bagley introduced AB-729, the Rumford reform bill, last February in an effort to stave off an outright repeal of the housing law. Another bill, SB-9, was introduced in the Senate by Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, to repeal the Rumford Act.

"I'm grateful that, because of my proposing amendments early in the session, we were able to stop an outright repeal of an open housing statute," said Bagley. "I fully expect passage of the amendments by both houses."

Amendments as proposed by Bagley will probably be incorporated into Senator Burns' SB-9, because passage of the Burns bill is mechanically easier since it has already passed the Senate.

Air Base Awards Repair Contracts

The award of three contracts for work at the Mill Valley Air Force Station and one at Hamilton Air Force Base were announced today by the base procurement office.

Larry Gates Painting of San Rafael was given a $1,050 contract to paint the interior of the family housing quarters; Gifford B. Fowle of Oakland, a $5,126 contract to alter Building 408, and C. L. Disheroon Painting Co. of San Jose, a $1,743 contract to repair the swimming pool, all at the Mill Valley station.

A $1,450 contract was given to J. R. Appenzeller of Danville to replace the telephone duct facilities at Hamilton.

Advice To Son: Don't Form Good Habits In Bridge Play

What should you say when your 16-year-old son stands on one foot and asks haltingly how to get along in the outside world?

This is no time for fairy tales about the birds and the bees.

OLD BOY

When today's hand was played, East was a 50-year-old boy with all the good habits. He played third-hand-high at the first trick, losing the king to the ace of spades.

Declarer tried the heart finesse, losing to the king, and now East didn't know what to do. Did West have the queen of spades or an ace?

HEAD SCRATCH

South took the queen of spades, drew trumps, and ran the clubs to get rid of his losing diamond. It was better than going down one.

EARLY DISCOVERY

A well-brought up East would play the jack of spades at the first trick. West would not lead low from the ace of spades but might hold the queen.

When South can capture the jack of spades with the queen at the first trick East knows at once that his side cannot win a spade trick.

South loses the heart finesse to the king, and East must guess which ace his partner holds. If East has all the good habits, he leads up to dummy's weakness. Clubs are weaker than diamonds, so East returns a club — and South makes the slam.

SONS

Your son and mine would work it out. South has four cards in the minor suits. If he has a losing club, he cannot get rid of it by taking his maximum of three diamond tricks. But if South has a losing diamond he can get rid of it by taking four club tricks.

West's ace is sure to take a trick if East returns a diamond — no matter which ace West has, but West may lose his ace if East returns a club. Down with good habits!

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♦—A 8 7 3
♣—7 6 3 2.

What do you say?
ANSWER: Pass.

You would respond to one of any other suit since then your singleton would be an asset. The singleton heart is a liability when partner bids hearts, and 4 points are not enough for a response.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, July 26, the 207th day of 1967 with 158 to follow.

The moon is between it full phase and last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

Born on this day in 1856 was Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw.

On this day in history:

In 1847, Liberia the only sovereign Negro democracy in Africa, was declared a republic.

In 1941, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was appointed commander of the U.S. Forces in the Philippines.

In 1945, the USS Indianapolis sailed for Saipan, carrying atom bombs to be used on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan.

In 1956, President Nasser of Egypt issued a decree nationalizing the internationally-owned Suez Canal.

A thought for the day — Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw once said: "The test of a man or woman's breeding is how they behave in a quarrel."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters, Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Corte Madera Project Costs Spread To Keep Rate At 8 Cents, Frost Says

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said yesterday an agreement spreading out costs of the Corte Madera Flood Control Project will prevent a boost in the district tax levy.

Frost, in a letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, said inclusion of the Town of Ross in the project next year will provide added tax revenues for the $8 million program.

The district tax rate is currently eight cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The supervisors approved a recent agreement under which the county will pay $40,000 for diking a stretch of Greenbrae marshland, while land enhancement costs, for which the corps had demanded full payment, will be spread out over three years.

District taxing will begin in Ross next year. The town voted in February to join the zone. San Anselmo and Fairfax, two other upper Ross Valley communities, have chosen only to share maintenance costs of the project.

Bids for the first phase of the project—dredging of the creek from San Francisco Bay to the Bon Air Bridge—have been called for Aug. 15 in the corps office in San Francisco.

Joint Pact Is Held As Library Solution

The Larkspur City Council, meeting with the library board last night, decided that a joint powers agreement would be the best method of financing a new library for Larkspur.

A sub-committee of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Library Committee had proposed four methods of financing: direct county financing from the county system's fund for building branch libraries; a library district including Corte Madera and Larkspur; a joint powers agreement between Larkspur and the county or establishment of a county service area.

A joint powers agreement would have to be approved by the governing board of the areas involved, and a joint powers commission would probably be established to govern the agreement. The commission could issue revenue bonds without an election, according to the subcommittee report.

Larkspur City Manager Kent B. Bathurst said the council did not discuss whether the agreement should be between Larkspur and the county, Larkspur and Corte Madera or some other area.

The council and library board agreed that Larkspur should not join the Marin County Library system, Bathhurst said.

A meeting of the full library committee was set for Aug. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at Corte Madera Town Hall.

Windows Broken

Industrial Building Plan Is Approved

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night approved plans for a new 14,636-square-foot industrial building on Industrial Way.

Owners George Martinez and Ron Antonoli plan to locate an automotive machine shop and a plastic manufacturing business in the building.

The commission also approved Dr. R. J. Merret's plans to add a 1,560-square-foot storage room to the Dollars and Sense Store, 1100 Magnolia Avenue, and variance requests from Bruce Laurit en, 24 Laurel Avenue, Loren E. Tersich, 173 Marina Vista Avenue, and Gurney Robinson, 88 Hazel Avenue for additions to their homes.

George Bertram was granted a use permit for an addition to a trailer park at 2130-2170 Redwood Highway, but his requests for a grading permit and architectural supervision were continued to the next meeting.

Hiring Considered In Closed Meeting

The Larkspur City Council, at a closed meeting yesterday, discussed either hiring a finance clerk or hiring an account clerk to be supervised by City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst, but postponed a decision to the next regular council meeting Aug. 2. The present finance officer, Mrs. Ruby Daly, will retire Jan. 1.

The council also dismissed maintenance man Roy Territo, a city employee since 1962, for missing work, Bathurst said.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Water Treatment New Area Of Future Growth

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am 28 and interested in aggressive growth stocks. I am intrigued by the potential in the water treatment field. I have narrowed my choice to Calgon and Betz Laboratories. It looks as if Betz would have the faster growth. What would you advise?" M. L.

A. Please let me congratulate you on your farsightedness in picking stocks in an area destined for future growth. Betz is almost wholly engaged in water treatment, while Calgon has important interests in other areas as well. Both stocks showed roughly the same rate of growth in 1966 and in the first quarter of 1967. Betz is much the smaller of the two companies and sells at a higher multiple — around 40 — compared with 34 for Calgon, based in each instance on estimated earnings for 1967.

For most investors my preference would be for Calgon which has a wider product mix. For your particular requirements — and assuming that you can afford considerable market risk — I advise Betz which is more exclusively in water treatment and is growing from a lower base.

Q. "My mother passed away and I have found stock certificates of which I enclose photo copies. These appear to have no value but I would like to know how to find out if this is so." E. B.

A. I am sorry to say that I have found nothing in my own records relating to the stocks you hold. It is always difficult to determine whether apparently obsolete securities have any value. If you are on good terms with your broker, he might make a search for you, but bear in mind that this may be for him a costly and time-consuming process. If this approach fails, write to the secretary of state in the state of incorporation. If no information is forthcoming, try the respective transfer agents. Both of these sources are indicated on the certificates.

Smoke plus fog equals smog, advises the National Automobile Club.

Earnings Are Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. reported today that earnings for the three months ended June 30 declined to $33,799,000, or 74 cents a share, from $54,520,000 or $1.18 a share, a year earlier.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Target Date For Lucky Stores' Northgate Unit Is Now Aug. 9

There is now a target date of Aug. 9 for the opening of Lucky Stores' second outlet in Marin — in unit three of Northgate Shopping Center.

This is a larger store than the one in Fairfax, probably by 1,000 or 2,000 square feet. It will have more shelf space and more modern equipment — which eventually is likely to appear at the Fairfax store, too, in a remodeling program somewhere along the line.

All refrigeration and freezer cases are open, with air curtains instead of doors. Special ducts make the freezer cases draftless while selecting foods. There will be eight checkout stands. Lots of parking space here, of course — there is all of Northgate.

Davis Vivier

Managing the store will be Harold Davis of Novato, who has been manager in Fairfax for the past five years. He started with Lucky in Berkeley 10 years ago and has been at several stores — and as manager at both Richmond and El Sobrante. He has already left the Fairfax store and is spending his time getting Northgate ready for next month's opening.

Replacing him as manager in Fairfax is Larry Vivier of San Rafael who has been assistant manager for the past four or five months. Vivier began his Lucky career as a food clerk at this same store when it opened seven years ago. For the past five years he has been assistant manager in other Bay Area Lucky stores, most recently in San Francisco. He is a native of Marin and I believe the first Marinite to attain Lucky manager status.

MULTIPLE LISTING SALES in Marin for June were up again over last year's figures, reaching a total of $5,552,581. This was 16.5 per cent better than sales for June, 1966, in dollar volume. Number of transactions gained 24 per cent over last year.

High Prices, Too

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're the proverbial average American, you had $31 more to spend during the second three months of this year than you did during the first three.

But that $31 bought only what $14 would have in 1958.

Glamor Stocks Lead Rising Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Strong rebounds by glamor stocks were featured in a rising stock market at the close today. Trading was active.

In a technical recovery from losses of last week, Xerox, Polaroid, IBM, Control Data and other high-flyers advanced several points.

Volume for the first four hours was 7.65 million shares compared with 7 million yesterday.

Gains outnumbered losses from the start, but the averages were a shade lower in early trading, repeating the Tuesday pattern.

Anchorage, Alaska, was recently named an "All America City."

Gains of half a dozen points were made by Xerox and IBM. Control Data added about 5½. Polaroid and U.S. Smelting rose 3 or more.

International Telephone gained more than 4 points.

The more-volatile issues were being brought again after a period of profit-taking.

All the leading motors stocks were fractional gainers despite the riots in Detroit.

Gains of about a point were made by Goodrich, Merck, Pfizer, Kennecott, Du Pont and Standard Oil of Indiana.

Business Firm, Hospital Request Heliport North Of Civic Center

Assurance of helicopter landing facilities on the Smith Ranch landing strip north of the Civic Center — with county purchase if necessary — was urged last night on the Marin County Aviation Commission.

Chairman Joseph A. Wright appointed Commissioners David B. Vail, Tris M. Coffin, and Benjamin R. Ostlind as a committee to see what can be done.

Vail reprted that Commerce Clearing House, which plans a major research center-office building complex on Quail Hill, wants to be assured of nearby helicopter service before going ahead.

Also, he reported, Dr. Albert E. White, administrator of Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael wants assurance of permanent copter landing facilities before the foundation goes ahead with hospital expansion plans. Kaiser proposes to use copters to shuttle patients and doctors among its 11 Bay Area hospitals, he said.

The Smith Ranch landing strip, used for light planes and helicopters, is on land where Delmar Wise proposes residential development. Chairman Wright said Wise had objected to keeping an airstrip as it might interfere with Federal Housing Administration financing of homes. He presented commissioners copies of a letter from Jack Tuggle, FHA deputy director in San Francisco, saying a private airport on the land might not interfere with financing plans.

Vail reported that M. F. Bagan, president of SFO Helicopters, had told him the line might be able to extend its Marin service to the Smith Ranch strip "within 90 days" if leas negotiations elsewhere go satisfactorily.

Before turning to the subject of helicopters, the commission received a petition signed by 150 persons, urging that the old strip at the county airport at Novato be retained when the new strip is completed.

The signers contended that "strong west winds of 15 to 30 miles per hour would make it extremely hazardous to operate on the new runway," which is almost at right-angles to the old strip.

Chairman Wright read a report from Harry Tollefson, who operates the old strip under contract with the county, that cross-winds above 15 knots were recorded at the new strip, now under construction, on 18 days in April, 19 in May, and eight in June.

Commissioners expressed surprise at the figures.

Commenting, "we couldn't decently maintain that runway when it was our only runway," Commissioner Ostlind urged that no attempt be made to maintain the old strip for other than emergency use.

Two ditches will be cut through the old strip in building the new one. Donald R. Frost, county public works director, said that to culvert them and restore the surface would cost from $10,000 to $20,000. He and Wright were authorized to discuss the problem with the Federal Aviation Administration.

In a series of other actions regarding the Novato airport, the commission:

OPERATORS' RULES — Approved a set of rules for repair and storage services lessees, calling for land lease beginning at 2 cents per square foot for the first five years and rising progressively to three and one-half cents.

MANAGER AND ATTENDANT — Approved job specifications for airport manager and attendant, dropping a proposed requirement that the manager have a college degree.

HANGERS — Heard a proposal by Jack Carr, an airline pilot, to install hangars, which would revert to the county after 25 or 30 years. None of the commissioners thought Carr's terms would give the county sufficient return, and Ostlind urged successfully that open shelters instead of hangars be considered.

FUND DECLINE — Learned from Frost that the county is not likely to get the $150,000 in state funds toward the airport for which it had hoped, but probably will get $80,000 to $90,000.

Geraniums first reached England from South Africa and then were shipped to other countries.

Jewelry, TV Taken During Daylight

A burglar who pried open the front door stole jewelry, a stereo set and television set worth $1,165 from the home of Mrs. Gertrude Scholten, 8 Millay Place, Mill Valley, during daylight yesterday, police reported.

Mrs. Scholten told police she left home at 10 a.m. and discovered the burglary when she returned at 3:40 p.m. A neighbor reported he saw a man back a pickup truck into Mrs. Scholten's driveway at about noon.

California's Quail Studied

ALTURAS (UPI) — The California quail, one of the state's most abundant game birds, is being studied by a group of University of California field workers and a wildlife specialists.

The California or valley quail is second only to mourning doves in numbers killed each year by hunters. But relatively little is known about the birds' habits.

Wildlife specialists hope to learn how far the birds travel in their search for food, where they nest and what their survival percentages are.

Hub Parking Limit Up To Two Hours

The San Anselmo City Council last night voted to increase the one-hour parking limit on the streets of downtown San Anselmo to a two-hour limit.

Everyone who spoke during the public hearing approved the change. "Some women can't make up their minds what they want. An hour goes by pretty fast," William A. Trewhella, owner f the Toni-Lu children shop, commented.

"I agree," Mayor Arthur W. Smith, owner of Art Smith's Variety Store, said. "These people who spend an hour in your store haven't got any time left to come into my store."

A woman in the audience noted her agreement. "One hour is not enough time to make up your mind."

Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro, who first proposed the change a year ago, suggested that the new limit be tried for a period ending June 30, 1968, and the council agreed. Police chief Raymond R. Buchignani said the change won't go into effect for about 30 days. The vote was 4-0. Councilman John M. Reichmuth was absent.

The council postponed to Aug. 8 a decision on an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would increase the minimum lot size from 5,000 to 7,500 square feet and the average lot width from 50 to 60 feet. The planning commission had asked that the council have City Atty. John G. Buresh prepare the amendment and return it to the planning commission for a public hearing.

Councilman Duane C. Ragan said he favored the change and made a motion supporting the planning commission's recommendation, but no one seconded the motion. Capurro opposed the change because there are "too many restrictions on people trying to build today." Councilman Robert M. Scott said he would like to see such a change applied to new subdivisions, but he was "reluctant to force it on older areas."

The San Anselmo City Council also:

MORTON LANE — Postponed to Aug. 8 any action on a petition from three residents of Morton Lane protesting "no stopping signs" recently installed on the east side of the street. The police and fire chiefs said fire engines could not pass on the street when cars are parked on both sides.

COMMITTEE — Appointed Scott and Ragan to a Fairfax-San Anselmo committee of four councilmen to discuss mutual problems, particularly future street design.

BUSINESS LICENSE — Adopted an amendment to the business license ordinance which sets the first fee for a new retail business at $10.

ZONE CHANGE — Introduced an ordinance rezoning property of the San Francisco Thelogical Seminary at 108 Ross Avenue and 99 Woodland Avenue from single-family and duplex to multiple-swelling zones.

SPECIAL MEETING — Announced a special meeting of the city council and Congress for Community Progress to review the San Anselmo Town Meeting's recommendations Tuesday at 8 p.m. at city hall.

TREES — Asked Leitzell to report Tuesday on what action is needed to prevent existing trees along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from being injured as the Drake widening project continues. The council was particularly concerned that fill added around the trees would kill them.

Hub Pushes Red Hill Slide Debris Cleanup

The San Anselmo City Council last night took action to get the debris of three apartment buildings on Red Hill, destroyed in a January earth slide, cleaned up before the end of the summer.

The council instructed City Atty. John G. Buresh to order the company which bonded improvements for the apartment development to install the improvements within 30 days, if Buresh's present negotiations with the company are not successfully concluded in a few days.

The General Insurance Co. of America, San Fransicso, bonded the original owner, Mill Valley architect Norman T. Gilroy, for $46,909 to insure that improvements such as streets, drainage and sewer lines would be installed. Buresh has been negotiating with the company for months.

Karl H. Baeck, owner of an apartment building at 20 Luna Lane, just below the wrecked apartment buildings, said that "kids run through the wreckage like a playground" and added that there are indications "beatniks" may be using the one apartment building left standing. He said that apartment building has "peace symbols" painted on its walls and fires appear to have been made inside.

The council also approved plans to get rid of the concrete ruins of an old dairy on Sorich Ranch by letting the National Guard blow it up. The council allocated $146 for 400 pounds of dynamite.

City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel said Company 3, 579th Engineering Battalion of the California Army National Guard, Santa Venetia, will blow up the dairy as part of training maneuvers Aug. 18, 19 and 20. The city had earlier heard estimates of $1,000 or more for the city to have the debris removed. Recreation Commissioner Paul Brand said the debris would be placed by the National Guard as fill in a spot on Sorich Ranch to be designated by the city.

The council asked that the police and fire chiefs, public works director and city attorney meet with the National Guard before the maneuvers to insure that the operation be as safe as possible.

Phil Scott Acting As Tiburon Manager

In the absence of City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose, Phil V. Scott, development administrator, is acting city manager of Tiburon, it was announced today by Mayor John S. Hoffmire.

Rose is scheduled to return from vacation Tuesday, Hoffmire said.

Church Sponsors Seminar In Sex

A seminar on sex, designed for teen-age boys, under the guidance of a group of perofessional men from different scientific and counciling disciplines will be held Friday at 7 p.m. at the Unitarian Church of Marin, 240 Channing Way, San Rafael.

Discussion leaders include Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court, Dr. Arnold Come, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, College of Marin psychologist Dr. Sanuel Samuel LeCount and Dr. Franz Baumann, San Francisco pediatrician.

The seminar, open to all boys accompanied by an adult male, will include discussion of anatomy, fundamental sexual information, health hazards and emotional trauma, pitfalls leading to error and the derivation of sexual taboos. Anonymous questions will be submitted by the audience.

Surplus Bids Sought At Hamilton Office

Trailers, aircraft repair parts, T-39 aircraft hardware and a hydraulic jack will be sold at a bid sale with bids to be opened at 10 a.m. Aug. 17 by the defense surplus sales office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Bids for light and heavy steel, waste oil and fuel will be opened at 10 a.m. on Aug. 15.

McCarthy Bills Become State Law

Two more bills by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R- San Rafael, have been signed into law by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

One is SB-1006, requested by Solano County, to clarify existing laws relating to the formation of new judicial districts. It allows the present justice of the Fairfield Justice Court to run for election as judge of the new Fairfield-Suisun Municipal Court and prohibits the election of a successor within 10 months of the judge's succession to the new municipal court.

The ohter is SB-1227, which prescribes the method by which creditors will be paid when a liquor license is transferred.

This brings to 10 the number of McCarthy bills which have become law this session, with more in the process.

Three McCarthy resolutions have also been approved.

Bad Checks Bring Jail Term

A 15-day jail sentence was given to Maurice L. Margolis, 58, of 155 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, Monday after he pleaded guilty to passing worthless checks.

Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson told him: "You have been signing bad checks for 22 years. If someone had imposed a jail sentence 15 or 20 years ago, you might not be standing here now."

Margolis was accused of passing four checks totaling $155 in the Tiburon area Jan. 10-27. He was ordered to begin the sentence Wednesday.

Vandals' Parents May Face Court Action

Parents of children who vandalized Del Mar School last winter will be taken to court if they refuse to pay for the damage, trustees of the Reed School District warned last night.

Trustees directed Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen to so inform the parents and to invite them to appear at the Aug. 1 meeting of the board.

During discussions of $320 vandalism at the school, Vanasen said that one of three families is still unwilling to assume responsibility for extensive damage to windows done by one child.

The child admitted to an investigating police officer doing the damage, Vanasen said.

Reed School District Board last night also:

PIANO — Decided against selling a grand piano at Del Mar School until more information is received from the music department.

MAINTENANCE — Decided to contract for boiler maintenance control for the district from the lowest bidder, on advice received in an inspection report by the Hartford Steam Boiler Insurance Co.

INSURANCE —Purchased an all-risk policy, insuring the district for $71,000 at a yearly premium of $574, from Maurice A. Gayle Co., San Francisco.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Reed School teacher Joan Stewart.

CLOSED SESSION — Following the regular meeting, held a closed session for one and one-half hours to discuss "a personnel problem regarding a district employee," according to Vanasen.

When Mt. Katmai erupted in Alaska in 1914, more than a foot of ash fell on the city of Kodiak 100 miles away.

Trustees Vote 3-1 Against Annexation

Bolinas-Stinson School District trustees last night adopted a resolution opposing proposed annexation to West Marin School District, reported Board Chairman Alyce Thompson.

Vote on the resolution was 3-1, Mrs. Edith N. Sarraille dissenting. Mrs. Jane Phillips was absent, but is a leader with Mrs. Sarraille in the move to annex to West Marin.

The resolution has no effect on the apparently successful petition drive to initiate annexation. The drive topped the required number of signatures, reported Mrs. Mildred Haroldsen, chairman of the petition drive.

The State Education Code provides annexation may be initiated by a majority of district trustees or by 25 per cent of registered voters in the district. The petitioners, thus, can proceed despite opposition by the three trustees.

Fishing Gear Stolen

William Long of 129 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, reported someone stole $60 worth of fishing gear from his boat parked in an open carport at his home Sunday night, police said today.

Motorcycle Rider Injured

Daniel Carey, 31, of 65 Sequoia Road, Fairfax, suffered fractured left leg and ribs at 9:45 p.m. last night when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by John Cummaneski, 16, of 2 Circle Drive San Rafael, Fairfax police reported.

Police said the accident occurred at the intersection of Broadway and Merwin Avenue, but were unable to provide details.

Fairfax Park Priorities Discussed By Rec Board

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night heard Jon I. Dole of the Marin County planning department outline tentative priorities for park capital improvements under the proposed Fairfax general plan.

The projects include initial development of the Fairfax city park, Deer Park development and improvements on San Anselmo Creek.

The commission is to return to the planners its recommendations for any priority changes. The commission will discuss the projects when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The commission recommended promoter Larry Emerson be allowed to resume the series of rock dances at Fairfax Pavilion if Emerson is cleared by the city administrator and the police.

The commission also recommended the city council approve a city-county agreement for the senior citizens' program, in which the county provides part of the cost for the city-run program.

By-laws and activities to date of the recently-formed senior citizens' group were also discussed.

TOO HOT to cook. Let carefree salads come to the rescue. Delicious and easy to make is this winning duo: a handsome molded loaf and zesty three-bean Mexican salad. Both owe their flavor to a new dressing idea—French dressing combined with gravy seasoning sauce.

CHARMS TASTERS

Enjoy Tacos With Shrimp

Here come tacos new-style. Served with a delicious shrimp filling and a hot sauce, they charmed all our tasters and the chances are they'll please yours.

The shrimp for the filling comes from convenient cans, chilled in the refrigerator to make the seafood delightfully firm in texture. Canned, frozen or fresh tortillas may be used for the tacos, so they, too, can be on hand.

SHRIMP TACOS

2 cans (each 4½ ounces) deveined shrim, chilled in the can
Oil and Vinegar Dressing (see Note)
10 large-size tortillas, fried taco-style (see recipe)
1 cup grated mild cheddar cheese
2 cups shredded iceberg lettuce
1 cup finely chopped sweet onion
Hot Sauce (see recipe)

Rinse shrimp in cold water and turn into shallow container, cover with Oil and Vinegar Dressing; refrigerate, covered, for 1 hour or longer; stir a few times. At serving time, place tacos on a large serving dish; fill with layers of cheese, lettuce, onion and shrimp; pour marinade from shrimp over the top. Serve at once, accompanied by Hot Sauce. Makes 5 servings — 2 tacos per portion.

NOTE: To make the oil and vinegar dressing, thoroughly mix together 6 tablespoons olive oil, 3 tablespoons cider vinegar, ½ teaspoon mustard and a dash of white pepper.

TORTILLAS, FRIED TACO-STYLE

Into a deep 8 inch skillet pour 1½ cups salad oil; heat oil. Fold tortillas in half, one at a time; holding rounded edges together with fingers, dip the bottom into the hot fat, until it sets and crisps; slip the edge of a slotted spoon between the folds and quickly press one side under the hot fat, turning the spoon upward to hold the shell open. Fry until crisp and brown; turn and brown the other side, again using the spoon to hold the edges apart. Drain on absorbent paper. Repeat, folding and frying one tortilla at a time until all shells are crisp and brown. Keep in warm oven until all are fried.

NOTE: This method is one used by a man who hails from Texas. If you can't manage it, lower the flat tortilla into the hot oil in the 8 inch skillet and fry until crisp.

HOT SAUCE

1 can (about 4 ounces) roasted and peeled green chiles, drained and chopped
2 garlic cloves, crushed
½ cup coarsely grated onion
½ cup coarsely grated cucumber
1 small green pepper, finely chopped
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Mix together all the ingredients. Makes about 3 cups.

NOTE: For a smooth sauce, blend ingredients in electric blender. In this case, it is not necessary to chop the tomatoes and chiles or grate the onion and cucumber. Add tomatoes and chiles after draining them. Coarsely chop ½ cup each onion and cucumber and 1 small green pepper before blending.

Sliced Pickles Add Accent To Flavor Of Pot Roast

Rather than throw out the last of the pickle juice, use it as the liquid for pot-roast. If you add some sliced pickles to the meat, its flavor will be even more accented.

PICKLE POT-ROAST

3 to 4 pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 medium onions, sliced ¼ inch thick
½ teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
¼ cup sweet cucumber pickle juice
½ cup sliced sweet cucumber pickles
¼ cup flour
Water

Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add onions, celery seed, ginger and pickle juice. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2½ hours. Add pickles and continue cooking 30 minutes or until meat is tender. Remove meat. Add enough water to cooking liquid to make 4 cups. Thicken liquid with flour for gravy.

Lamb Kabob Sandwiches A Beguiling Dish Patio-Style

Enjoy beautiful summer days to the fullest and serve dinner a la patio style. This beguiling dish is at home at a simple family supper or a sunny lawn party.

Mother needs only to marinate the juicy chunks of lamb in a flavor-special sauce beforehand, then slip the meat, cherry tomatoes and fresh mushroom caps onto a skewer. They roast while family and guests relax. When done, place the Kabobs on a toasted hot dog bun and withdraw the skewer. Finish this outdoor special with a chilled leafy green salad and iced beverages. You'll find these Kabob Sandwiches are an ideal dish to offer as a do-it-yourself entree — much to the delight of family and guests.

Sandwiches suit a million purposes — and any pocketbook. They're a wise choice for a well-balanced diet, too, for enriched bread products contain generous amounts of three B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, and the mineral, iron, all at very little cost.

LAMB KABOB SANDWICHES
6 sandwiches

1 cup tarragon vinegar
1 medium onion, sliced
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon basil
1 bay leaf
1 pound boneless lamb stew meat, cut into 36 1-inch squares
18 cherry tomatoes
12 canned whole mushrooms
¼ cup butter, softened
½ teaspoon rosemary, crumbled
6 enriched hot dog buns, split and toasted

Combine vinegar, onion, garlic, olive oil, salt, pepper, basil and bay leaf in saucepan; bring to boil. Remove from heat; cool to lukewarm. Stir in lamb cubes. Cover and refrigerate 3 to 4 hours, stirring occasionally. Remove lamb from marinade, drain thoroughly on absorbent paper. For each kabob, arrange lamb, tomatoes and mushrooms alternately on skewer. Broil in preheated broiler or grill 4 to 5 minutes, or until lamb is done. Meanwhile, blend together butter and rosemary. Butter buns. Place kabob between bun halves; remove skewer and close. Serve hot.

Tempting Appetizers

Chilled Beef Rollups are tempting appetizers. Spread softened cream cheese mixed with a dash of horseradish, salt and parsley over thin slices of roast beef. Roll up beef and fasten with picks. After chilling, cut each roll into ½ inch slices and serve on toast rounds.

Keep Cool With Carefree Salads

Too hot to cook. Keep cool with carefree salads that look as good as they taste. Delicious and easy to make is an impressive molded salad filled with chunks of meat, fish or chicken, garden fresh vegetables — and flavored with a savory combination of French dressing and brown gravy seasoning sauce. For cooler days a hearty three bean salad fits the bill — and it is as simple to make as opening a can.

Serve both with hot breads, fresh berries and cookies. For an added sweet note, provide rock candy swizzle sticks for the iced drinks. The youngsters will love this.

SAVORY SUMMER SALAD LOAF

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1 cup cold water
1 can (10 oz.) consomme
½ cup French dressing
1 tablespoon gravy seasoning and browning sauce
1 cup cooked peas
½ cup pimiento pieces
1 large cucumber, thinly sliced
2 cups cooked and cubed chicken, flaked fish or diced meat

Soften gelatin in cold water, then add to consomme and heat until dissolved. Stir in dressing and gravy seasoning and browning sauce; refrigerate. When mixture is thickened, stir in remaining ingredients and turn into loaf mold rinsed in cold water. Refrigerate until firm. Turn out and garnish. Makes 6 servings.

MEXICAN BEAN SALAD

1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
1 can (1 lb.) red kidney beans
1 can (1 lb.) Cece beans
1 onion sliced
½ cup pickle relish, drained
1 package (6 oz.) cubed sharp cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup French dressing
1 teaspoon gravy seasoning and browning sauce

Toss ingredients together and chill until ready to serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

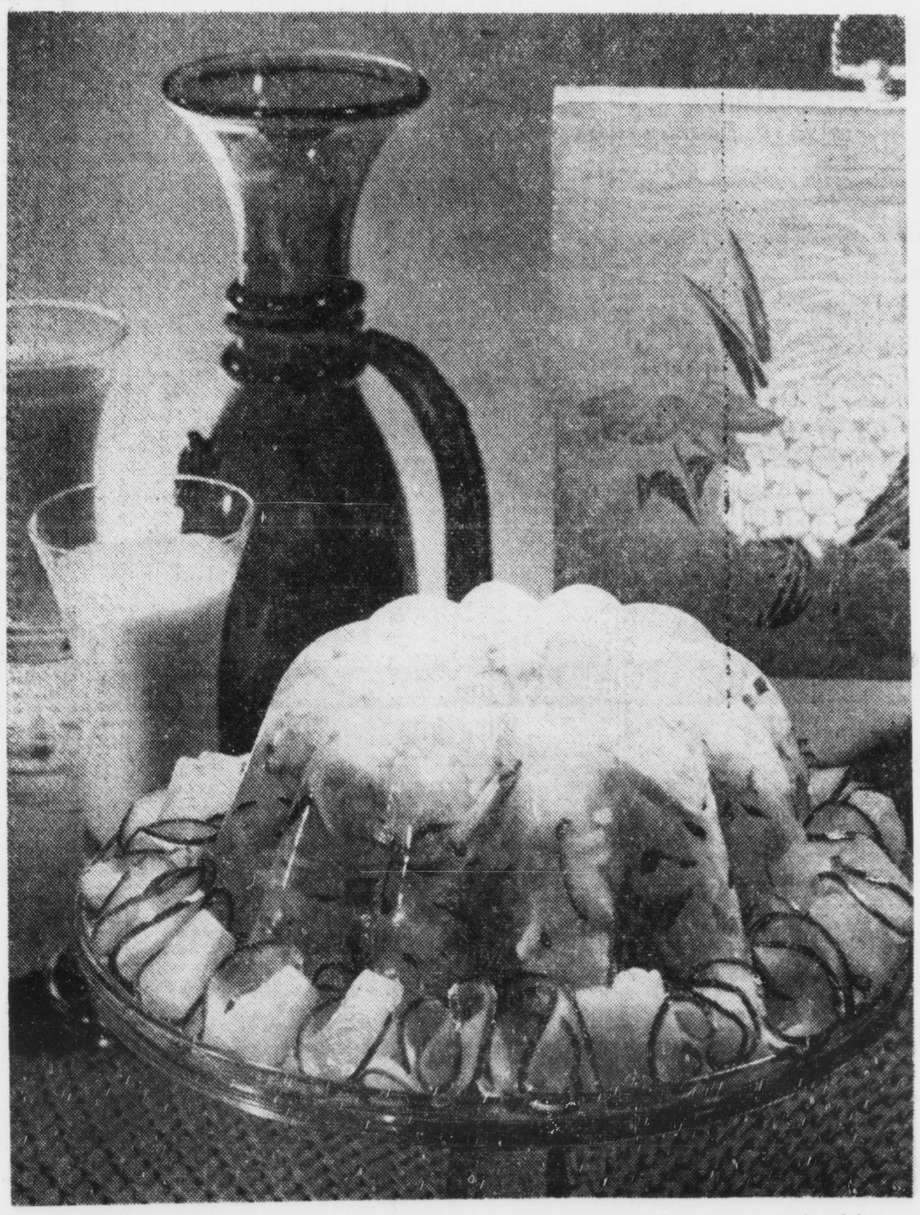
Pineapple And Cucumber— Are A Cool Summer Combo

The cool flavors of summer are canned pineapple and garden fresh cucumber. Combine them to make a pretty salad or a refreshing low calorie drink.

The shapely salad molds pineapple tidbits, shredded cheese and shredded cucumber in gelatin spiked with a little lemon juice. Be sure to leave the cucumber unpeeled for color accent and interesting texture. It will have everyone guessing what it is. When ready to serve, garnish this creation with additional pineapple tidbits and a cucumber ruffle — just follow the easy directions for cutting the ruffle. This pineapple salad is a perfect light accompaniment for barbecued meats.

For patio sipping, whip up the coolest coolers ever on the blender with a can of crushed pineapple, chunks of cucumber and yogurt. Serve well chilled in stemmed glasses.

Keep canned pineapple on hand to add instant sparkle and surprising lift to all sorts of summer refreshments. It's always sweet, always with a crispness, always refreshing. Remember, you can buy pineapple in slices, chunks, tidbits, crushed and juice — each form lends itself to particular uses.



A COOL DUO for the summer months are canned pineapple and garden cucumber. They combine to make either a salad that will intrigue your guests or a refreshing low calorie drink. The shapely salad molds pineapple, shredded cheese and shredded cucumber in gelatin spiked with lemon juice.

COOL CUCUMBER PINEAPPLE SALAD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can pineapple tidbits
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded cucumber
⅓ cup shredded mild Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Sprinkle gelatin on water and lemon juice to soften. Place over low heat stirring until dissolved. Remove from heat and add syrup drained from pineapple and salt. Cool until slightly thickened. Fold pineapple tidbits, cucumber, cheese and pimiento into thickened gelatin. Turn into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish as desired with cucumber ruffle and additional pineapple tidbits.

DOZENS! when you start with real true Kraft Mayonnaise

It's the magic blender—Kraft Mayonnaise! Kraft blends first so you can blend better. Beats together lots of eggs and extra egg yolks, a special combination of delicate oils, a bit of flavor-teasing lemon juice—and does it so skillfully the mayonnaise stays supremely, velvety smooth. So why "cook bland" when you can blend so easily with real true mayonnaise—Kraft's! Clip the blending ideas you see below. They'll start you off . . . you'll think of lots more when you look into the refrigerator!

Your Own Fruit Salad Dressing—Blend ¼ cup orange juice and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind with 1 cup Kraft Mayonnaise.

Your Own Coleslaw Dressing—Blend 2 tablespoons light cream and 1 tablespoon Kraft Prepared Mustard with 1 cup Kraft Mayonnaise.

Your Own Kidney Bean Salad Dressing—Blend 2 tablespoons milk, ¼ cup chopped dill pickle with 1 cup Kraft Mayonnaise.

Barbara Reichmuth To Marry William Fredrick Geisler

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Barbara Allen Reichmuth and William Fredrick Geisler of San Francisco.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKim Reichmuth of San Anselmo, made her debut at the 1962 Marin Debutante Ball. She was graduated from the Katharine Branson School and the University of California where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She is a member of The Spinsters of San Francisco. She is the sister of Howard S. Reichmuth of Oxnard and the granddaughter of Vice Admiral and Mrs. Ferdinand L. Reichmuth and Mrs. Effingham Browne Sutton of San Francisco and the late Mr. Sutton.

BARBARA REICHMUTH

The future bridegroom, son of Mrs. L. F. Lundquist of San Francisco and the late Fredric William Geisler, was graduated from Harvard and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He is a third year student at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific. He is a trustee of Grace Cathedral in San Francisco and a member of the Olympic Club.

A September wedding is planned.

Pro America Sets Bridge Luncheon

A fund-raising luncheon and bridge party open to the public will be sponsored by the Marin County Unit of Pro America at noon on Aug. 17 at the Sausalito Yacht Club.

Purpose of the event is to raise money for the 1968 election campaign, according to chairman Mrs. S. C. Stapp.

Mrs. William V. Lynch will do decorations in a patriotic theme. Reservations chairmen are Mesdames H. N. Mangel and Harry Rice.

New Stewardess

Lorraine Antoinette Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fredrik Olson of Kentfield, has been awarded the silver wings of an American Airlines stewardess after completing training at American's Stewardess College, Fort Worth, Tex. She has been assigned to flight duty out of Boston.

Balmain Attacks Youth Trend

PARIS (UPI) — Designer Pierre Balmain attacked what he called "the youth at any price" trend by dropping his hemlines slightly and sticking to conservative elegance.

With today's extra short and youthful fashion in mind, Balmain announced before his show, "by being too childish, a woman emphasizes the marks left by the passing of time. For too many women, the kindergarten style is flattering only when it is seen from behind."

If Balmain meant his collection to look older than the rest of Paris, he succeeded.

HIS WINTER styles of narrow coats, narrow suits with long trim jackets and loose shift appeared destined to be over by women who want to wear clothes that looked good 10 years ago and may last 10 years from now. But some fashion writers in the audience opined that today's style parade has veered into other directions.

Balmain never has shown extremely short clothes, and finally hiked up his hemlines to the top of the knee for his spring collection. Today he dropped them slightly for daytime, for evening he pegged hemlines at a few inches above the ankle.

PARIS IS becoming more and more serious about this new evening length after several seasons of experimenting. One of Balmain's long cocktail outfits was a black halter neck dress with satin stripes topped by a black satin coat trimmed with fur. Others were chiffon with feathers flouncing around a zig-zag hemline. One zig-zag mid-calf evening gown in silver-embroidered net over a short blue underdress was worn by Balmain's new American model, Carla Rota, a pretty brunette from Holyoke, Mass.

Balmain's daytime scene did not include one pair of pants or dangling plastic earrings. His new touch was controversial round brass buttons decorating suits and the shoulders of coats and suits for a slight military look. One black astrakhan dress had a belt of brass balls plus earrings and a necklace to match.

SUIT JACKETS were longer, to mid-hip, with slightly broader shoulders and collars and straighter skirts. The Balmain girls wore contrasting vests, sometimes over wool shirts, instead of blouses, and side-swept wide-brimmed slouch hats.

After the quiet Balmain show it was a shock to walk next door to the Simonetta-Fabiani showing of what Balmain would call "the kindergarten" clothes.

To the tune of records, mannequins frugged and jerked while they showed off the collection of crepe pants dresses and wool coats and matching dresses that were 3 to 4 inches above the knee.

The Italian husband-wife designing team also showed a series of wool mini dresses at swim suit length, but made respectable with matching wool tights. One purple mini with lime green stripes was worn with purple tights, for example.

ONE SHORT red-orange coat appeared with Paris' latest device for keeping knees warm: Roger Vivier's soft leather boots that cover the entire leg, thigh included.

PLEASING FROM THE up-and-coming new fashion house of Torrente in Paris was this evening gown with an audacious decollette highlighted by ornate embroidery in tones of gold and orange. The opening day of the Paris winter fashion parade was marked with a line of short dresses and coats, a good three inches above the knee. (UPI cablephoto)

Fritz-Johnson Engagement

The engagement of Margaret Ann Johnson of Mill Valley to Elvin L. Fritz II was announced Saturday by her mother, Mrs. Donald C. Johnson of Oakland, at a cocktail and buffet party held in the San Francisco home of the bride-elect's brother, Barnard C. Johnson.

A graduate of Tamalpais High School, Margaret Ann attended the College of Marin and Sacramento State College. She is a member of the International Order of Job's Daughters and is employed at the Roos-Atkins store.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Hoban of Millington, Mich., and E. L. Fritz of Berkeley. He was educated in Millington community schools and is employed in equipment installation with Western Electric.

He is the brother of Herbert and Lynn Hoban of Millington and Kory Fritz of Berkeley and James Fritz of Indiana.

The wedding will take place next summer.

Hopeful Bigamist Wants Return To The Legal Double Marriages

DEAR HELEN:

I've been reading about how many still practice polygamy in the United States — and instead of being shocked, I think maybe they've got something there.

We're rapidly becoming oversupplied with unattached females, what with wars taking down the supply of males, and woman's longer life span, not to speak of more girl babies being born than boys. Also, women work these days, so there'd be no problem of support.

Why not let every man who wants to have at least one additional wife? That would keep the boys busy on the home front, out of bars and away from philanthropy. (Note from H: Might you mean "philander-y"?)

Wanna bet we'll get back to legal double marriages within 50 years?

—HOPEFUL BIGAMIST

DEAR H. B.:

No bets.

But let me point out something you overlook. One in every four men is no match for his wife these days . . . and as gals get more aggressive, husbands tend to cower behind the TV set. So what would they want with double trouble — plus twice the yakking? —H.

DEAR HELEN:

On the eve of our 25th wedding anniversary my husband and I confessed something that we could only have said because we're so close. We discovered that for three weeks before our wedding, each of us could think only of running, but we couldn't bear to hurt the other.

After we laughed about that, I told him I didn't start loving him again until we were well into the second year of marriage, and then only faintly. But: "Boy, how I pretended!" Said he: "Me too!"

You see, we had grown up together and everyone expected us to be a permanent couple. We liked each other so well we worked overtime trying to hide the fact that love wasn't there. It worked . . . so well that respect and admiration turned into the deepest and most lasting affection. Until our truth session we didn't suspect that at first we wehe both pretending, to shield our mate.

What I'm trying to say is: marriages can thrive without overpowering romantic love, for love grows gradually out of friendship and esteem — and, most of all, being able to talk together. If young people would look for the lasting qualities instead of chills down the spine, we'd see a lot less divorces.

—HAPPIER EACH YEAR

DEAR H.E.Y.:

Right!

You can get shivers up your back from a brass band or touching a break in the iron cord, but only good, solid communication puts the real tingle into marriage.

May your next 25 years be filled with 50 years of happiness! —H.

Mill Valley Woman Chosen As Volunteer Of The Month

MRS. LAWRENCE HAYNES

Mrs. Lawrence Haynes of Mill Valley is a busy woman. She works Monday through Friday as a clerk for the Pacific Telephone Co. She runs a home for her husband Lawrence, a Master Sergeant in the U.S. Air Force and also contributes many hours a week to volunteer activties in Marin. Because of her enthusiasm and versatility she has been selected by the Volunteer Bureau of Marin as July's Volunteer of the Month.

LORENA HAYNES is currently involved in two volunteer jobs, both of which she found through the Volunteer Bureau. She works on Wednesday evenings for the Marin County Probation Department and three evenings a week for the Marin Shakespeare Festival.

This is Mrs. Haynes' second season as a volunteer for the Shakespeare Festival. The Festival opened July 15 and Mrs. Haynes began the job she will do every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night until it closes in September; serving refreshments at the performances.

THE SHAKESPEARE Festival has moved this year, its seventh.

Mrs. Haynes is not new to volunteering. Her interest began when she was a Girl Scout troop leader in her home town of Allentown, Pa. When she and her husband settled in Marin in 1954, Mrs. Haynes found that volunteer work was a good way to learn more about her new community. She contacted the YWCA and through them became involved in U.S.O. work. Attending Mill Valley City Council meetings led to the job of being a chaperone for the Mill Valley Teen Club. "This was one of my most rewarding jobs," says Mrs. Haynes, "Not having children of my own, communicating with teen-agers was a real challenge."

In addition to a full time job and her volunteer activities Mrs. Haynes finds time to take Adult Education courses and practice her favorite sport of distance swimming. She and her husband also enjoy hiking together.

Bridal Gowns Are Now Big Business

NEW YORK (UPI) —The making and sale of bridal gowns and bridesmaids' gowns has become a very big business in the United States. No one knows exactly how big, according to James Cerbone, executive manager of the Bridal and Bridesmaids Apparel Association.

"According to government figures, there are about 1.8 million marriages in the United States in a year, he said. "We don't know for certain, but perhaps 68 to 70 per cent of these are first marriages.

"About 40 per cent or 730,000 of the brides become customers of the 6,000 bridal shops across the land. Of these shops, 1,000 are in department stores. The rest are independent."

THE SIZE OF THE business can be seen from the fact that New York City classified phone directory lists nearly a whole page of manufacturers and wholesalers of wedding gowns and bridal crowns, and all the industry isn't in New York by any means.

"How far away we are from the day when the girl made her own wedding bridal gown or had it made by the family dressmaker may be seen easily when old timers tell us that in the first decade of this century there probably were not 50 stores in the country that sold wedding gowns," Cerbone said.

Naturally, factory production of wedding gowns has brought a degree of standardization in price. Cerbone said the most popular price range this year is $100 to $125 at retail. Retail prices for full length manufactured wedding gowns start at about $75 and go up to $400. In the more expensive gowns, part of the price usually is for white mink trimming.

Ballerina length gowns that end just below the knee are cheaper but far less popular. "Often, though, the bridesmaids wear ballerina length gowns while the bride wears the long gown, but never the reverse, if the bride wears a short gown, her bridesmaids must too," Cerbone said.

The girl who isn't sentimental enough to want to keep her wedding gown can rent a more expensive gown than she could afford to buy from many bridal shops.

In the last year or so, white satins with metallic luster sheen created by weaving gold or silver colored thread into the fabric have become increasingly popular for bridal gowns.

Colors for bridesmaids' gowns are usually chosen by the bride for a formal wedding. The old custom of having a rainbow cluster of maids gowned or frocked in different colors still is popular. But there are more and more weddings in which all the maids wear the same color, but never white, Cerbone said.

"For a June wedding, light colors are favored for the bridesmaids: for an autumn or winter wedding, darker, richer colors, such as ruby red and emerald green," he said.

Novato Teens Sought For Play Tryouts On Saturday

Teen-agers interested in acting or as technical assistants in a play to be presented during the Christmas holidays at the Community House in Novato should attend the first tryouts at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Community House.

The Novato Federated Women's Club is sponsoring the play, "First Visit from Space," under the direction of Mrs. Woodward Melone, fine arts chairman for the club. Proceeds from the play will be used to help establish a teen-age center in the Novato area.

Mrs. James Farrell, social chairman for the Novato Federated Women's Club, is executive chairman for the youth project and is being assisted by club members Mrs. Felton Robertson, membership chairman, Mrs. John Machado, public relations chairman, and Mrs. Paul Steinkamp, treasurer.

Not only are teen-agers needed for parts in the play, such as a magician that can do tricks, a cowardly lion tamer, big boys with booming voices and a young man six feet tall to play the robot, but also teen-agers to assist with photography, lighting, tape recorders, stage hands, painting, baby sitting and makeup.

"This will be a production put on by teen-agers with adults assisting only," said Mrs. Melone.

Mrs. John Bridgman of Belvedere who wrote the original play that was produced by the Junior Theater of Marin, has given special permission to Mrs. Melone to rewrite and direct the play for the Novato club. She is being assisted by her son, Robert Melone. Special permission was also given by the Junior Theater for the club to use costumes and props.

Mrs. Farrell said that it is hoped with projects such as the play funds will be acquired to start a youth center in Novato where teen-agers may meet for such projects as music, art, drama, crafts and workshops.

Tryouts will also be held at 7 p.m., Aug. 1.

Helmholtz-Oko Vows Are Exchanged In Nevada Rite

By MOLLY MARIN

The former Mrs. Adolph Oko of Pt. Reyes Station, widow of the late Capt. Oko, who was a leader in research in the story of Sir Francis Drake's 1579 landing, married Charles Helmholtz of Reading, Mass., in a quiet Catholic ceremony performed in Las Vegas on Saturday. Friends of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Laird of Florida, were witnesses for the nuptials for which Mrs. Oko wore on oyster linen ensemble with a straw hat. The couple, who met while on a cruise to the Orient seven months ago, are flying to Reading where they will make their new home. Mr. Helmholtz, a widower, retired with an industrial concern in the East. The couple will return to Pt. Reyes Station in November for a visit.

MRS. HELMHOLTZ

More than 100 relatives and friends attended the affair held from 2 until 5 o'clock. Special anniversary music was provided by a three-piece band with punch, champagne and hors d'oeuvres served the guests. Also attending were their two grandchildren, Michael O'Leary of Tiburon and Mrs. Sharon Molles of San Francisco. Golden bell floral arrangements decorated the table which also held a special anniversary wedding cake. The honorees have lived in Marin for 10 years and were married July 19, 1917, in San Francisco. The couple are members of both the San Rafael and North Bay Yacht clubs.

SKIING IN July? No, but the John Wileys of Belvedere have been talking so enthusiastically about a charter ski trip to Europe in February that many of their local friends are getting enthused. Plans call for cross-country skiing, then staying at a different ski center at the end of each day's run.

MR. AND MRS. Don Slezak and their two daughters, Kim and Leslie of Novato, are moving this week to Walnut Creek. Mr. Slezak will be assistant superintendent of schools in Lafayette. He is presently attending a conference in Hawaii with 400 other educators throughout the country sponsored by the Sloan-Kettering Co.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD GRONBERG and their three children, Linda, Carl and Paul have returned to their home in Novato following a month's vacation at Shasta Lake. They enjoyed camping and fishing and Paul, five years of age, was mighty pleased with a 14-inch fish he caught. Dick and Mae both celebrated their birthdays over the July Fourth weekend and 41 friends and relatives from this area visited them on their vacation.

On their return to Novato, Mae and three of her friends, Mesdames Gene Willimas, Robert Montgomery and Rita Niehaus spend a couple of days at Tahoe and Reno.

DR. AND MRS. FRANK E. ROSSMAN of Sausalito and their seven-year-old granddaughter, Andrea Rossman of Mill Valley, have returned from a two weeks' trip in the northwest. They visited their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Meadowcroft and their sons, Dean and Keith of Sunnyside, Wash., formerly of Mill Valley, and went with them on a trip to Lake Chelan, which is 100 miles from the Canadian border. They also visited Mrs. Rossman's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Donald C. Birch of Gresham, Ore., formerly of Mill Valley.

MRS. DONNA WOODS of San Anselmo entertained her mother, Mrs. Rudolph Alvin Light and Dr. Light, professor emeritus at Oxford University, at luncheon in her home today. Donna's youngsters, Diantha, Wendy and Randy, were also present to greet their grandmother. Mrs. Light, the former Mrs. Ann McInerney, lived in Fairhills some years ago when Donna attended Dominican School. Donna's brothers, E. Paul and Gordon Getty, sons of J. Paul Getty, attended San Rafael Military Academy. Dr. and Mrs. Light, who reside in Nashville, Tenn., arrived Sunday from Carmel and are staying at the St. Franics Hotel in the city. They and Donna hope to play some golf while in Marin.

MR. AND MRS. Carl Kilger of San Rafael were honored at a reception on Sunday at Peacock Gap Country Club on their golden wedding anniversary by their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul O'Leary of San Anselmo.

Pebbles Help To Clean Utensils

NEW YORK (UPI) —Lack of dishwashing gear should never deter a good camper from doing a thorough job of making the dishes come clean, the Clenaliness Bureau notes.

All the camper needs to take along is a supply of soap or detergent; nature will supply a scouring agent, if needed. Add small pebbles to the suds and shake to loosen food that has struck to deep jars or pots. To remove smudge from the outside of cooking utensils, mix sand with suds, and apply with a cloth.

Spread Thin

Too thick a coat of paint leaves a wrinkled finish. This problem can be eliminated by brushing or rolling the paint thoroughly.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN EDWARD CHELINI
(DuCharme photo)

Susan Fitzharris Weds John Chelini

Residing in San Francisco following their July 8 wedding at St. Dominic's Church in San Francisco are Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Chelini.

The bride, the former Susan Elizabeth Fitzharris, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus J. Fitzharris of Soledad and San Rafael. The bride is a teacher at Redwood High School.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of lustre satin with overblouse of Venice lace. The chapel train and flared skirt were appliqued with the same lace.

Preceding the bride to the altar in seafoam green Empire gowns were Mrs. E. Guy Rector of San Rafael, the bride's sister as matron of honor and Sheila Fitzharris of Los Angeles and Kathy Fitzharris of San Francisco, the bride's cousins, and Nancy Beckner of San Rafael.

Megan McNally of Corte Madera was flower girl.

Jerry Grisez of San Francisco served the bridegroom as best man and ushering were Tim Fitzharris of Berkeley, the bride's brother, and Attilio Mossi, Philip Morrissey, Bill Reilly and Alfred Sodini, all of San Francisco.

A reception at the Meadow Club followed the ceremony.

The bride, who is also the sister of Lt. David J. Fitzharris serving with the U.S. Army in Okinawa, was graduated from San Rafael High School and the University of California at Davis. She did postgraduate study at San Francisco State College and Cornell University.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Leo Chelini, was graduated from Bellarmine School and the University of San Francisco. He is the twin brother of Mrs. Jerry Grisez of San Francisco. He is also a member of the Olympic Club.

Canada was the destination of the wedding trip.

Shaped Hangers For Longer Life

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Hanging clothes on hangers that are shaped for particular garments means longer life for your wardrobe.

The National Institute of Drycleaning suggests shaped wooden or plastic hangers for jackets and coats, clamp-type hangers for skirts, and pants-hangers for trouses. Don't hanger sweaters or knits. Place them flat in a drawer.

SWISHY CAPES
DIOR'S HEMLINES BRUSH THE KNEES

PARIS (AP) — The House of Dior showed a winter collection today that was pretty, feminine and swishing with capes.

Dior, who broke a tradition and showed only to buyers, had most hemlines brushing the knee, but some party dresses were a little shorter.

Like other Paris designers, Marc Bohan seemed to be shunning the miniskirt craze, according to buyer sources.

There was a jungle of stripes, used horizontally or vertically on beautiful Besson tweeds.

Mod Furniture Spells New Look

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "Mod" mood in home furnishings no longer can be called a fad, but is a "full blown wind of change."

So reports one organization, the Latex Foam Rubber Council, which keeps tab on furnishings trends. "Mod" has brought "fresh air . . . new verve" to designs in textiles, wallpaper, floor coverings, furniture and accessories, says the council. "Mod" shows in electrical colors, bold splashes of black and white on shiny surfaces, in off-beat patterns and highly burnished metals.

Jazz, Dance Festival To Aid Church Fund

A second summer jazz festival will be presented 8 p.m. Monday at Saint Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

The festival, "Jazz nad Other Things," stems from the "Jazz and Things" festival at the church in June.

Donations will benefit the church's cultural development program in Marin City and neighboring communities.

Opening the festival will be "Meridian West," a modern jazz group. The group recently provided music for a jazz worship at Glide Memorial Methodist Church in San Francisco.

Other performers featured will be Margot Jones and her dancers, and the Larry Davis quartet. Mill Valley artist George Albertus created a 30-foot poster on the history of jazz for the festival.

SHAGGY DOG JOKE DURABLE BUT HUNGRY?

Six or seven years ago Jernigan, of 25 North Terrace, Bel Aire, sent a joke to Reader's Digest for its "Life in These United States" feature.

He never got a reply, neither acceptance nor rejection. As the years drifted by he forgot about it.

But this week, in the August issue, Reader's Digest printed his joke. Fortunately it has a timeless quality, being about a Volswagen and a Saint Bernard.

The only thing is, Jernigan hasn't got a check yet from the magazine.

Winifred Baker Chorale Has Pops Concert Role

Marin's Winifred Baker Chorale and Children's Chorus will appear with the San Francisco Civic Chorale in a featured work in the Saturday evening pops concert of the San Francisco Symphony directed by Arthur Fiedler.

The concert in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium begins at 8:30 p.m.

Fiedler has invited Miss Baker to conduct Britten's "Saint Nicolas," which tells the story of Saint Nicolas, the Fourth Century Bishop of Myra, who later became known as Santa Claus.

The title role will be sung by tenor Edward Jameson, with 8-year-old Charles Engan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Engan of Tiburon, as the boy Saint Nicolas.

Singing the roles of the three "pickled boys" will be Jack Packard of Corte Madera, Jaime Pera of Tiburon and Stephen Hicken of Santa Venetia.

Driver 'Fair'

Daniel Zell, 18, of 1210 Cambridge Avenue, Novato, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital following an auto accident near Marshall Saturday when a bee sting caused him to drive off the road. He suffered a cut scalp, left leg and bruised abdomen.

Only about one in every 33 oil wells drilled in new areas turns out to be a commercial producer, says Petroleum Today.

Patrick Quits Sen. Church Recall Drive

San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer William Penn Patrick has withdrawn his support of the move to recall Sen. Frank Church, a Democrat in Idaho.

Patrick said he was persuaded to get out of the recall campaign by Sen. George L. Murphy, R-Calif. "The over-riding goal of all Republicans must be to win, everywhere, in 1968," said Patrick. "To this cause, I am already pledged."

The 37-year-old Patrick, who heads Holiday Magic in San Rafael, had been helping finance the recall move against Senator Church, who has been critical of U.S. policy in Vietnam. Patrick said he was dropping out of the recall effort because he was persuaded the move could "develop undeserved support for Senator Church."

Last May Patrick disclosed that he had financed the printing of "5,000 to 10,000 petitions" calling for the recall of the Idaho senator.

Condemned Man Wins Appeal For New Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The State Supreme Court has granted an appeal from Lawrence Akin Jackson, 36, of South Gate, Los Angeles County, who faces execution in the San Quentin gas chamber.

A retrial was ordered yesterday on the issue of the death penalty. The court said inadmissable testimony was presented at the original trial.

An earlier ruling upheld Jackson's conviction of murdering Mrs. Doris Keyes, 52, of Hollywood in the Cherry Mountain Valley area of Riverside County.

Play At Green Room On Friday

"A Thousand Clowns," Broadway and Hollywood comedy, will be presented by the Green Room Players at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and Aug. 4 and 5 at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Director will be Phil Pratt of Fairfax. Cast members are Greg Norgaard, San Anselmo, as Murray Burns; Beth Dowling, Mill Valley, as Sandra Markowitz; Larry Kirkendall, San Anselmo, as Nick Burns; Charles Calliste, Belvedere, as Albert Amundson; Mike Herndon, San Anselmo, as Arnold Burns, and Ken Bullock, San Anselmo, as Leo Herman.

Good Condition

Robert De Martini, 20, of 118 Marinda Drive, Fairfax, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital today with multiple scratches and brusies suffered in a motorcycle accident near his home yesterday morning.

SMOOTH SAILING

50th Anniversary For San Rafael Pair

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — The Carl A. Kilgers view the bay from their yacht and look at life from the vantage point of 50 years of marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Kilger of 41 Dorian Way, San Rafael, who have just passed the 50-year milestone in their marriage, plan to continue working, sailing, and enjoying their "good life."

Kilger said he loves boating and from their 40-foot yacht, Kilole, the couple spends many an active weekend. They belong to the North Bay and San Rafael Yacht clubs and berth their boat at Loch Lomond Yacht Harbor.

Mrs. Kilger said she is not nearly as avid a boater as her husband. "I'm afraid of water," she confessed. "But I must say," she added, "either the bay is getting smoother or I'm getting used to it."

The couple met in San Francisco at a dance 51 years ago. They were married a year later on July 19, 1917, when Kilger worked as a printer.

He founded his own company, in 1928, C. A. Kilger Machine Works Inc., in San Francisco which, under his direction, is still thriving.

A reception was given for them by their only daughter, Mrs. Paul O'Leary of San Anselmo, last Sunday at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club and the couple plans another on their yacht next month.

The couple have two grandchildren, Michael O'Leary of Tiburon and Mrs. Sherron Molles of San Francisco, and five great-grandchildren.

Their secret of a happy marriage lies in close cooperation and a sharing of ideas. Of his wife Kilger said, "She has always been easy-going and gentle."

"If I had it to do over, I would do exactly the same thing," Mrs. Kilger said. "We've had a very good life together."

Second Fairfax Festival Set For Busy Two-Day Run

A busy two-day schedule for the second Fairfax Festival Sept. 23 and 24 was announced today by co-chairmen Dale J. Martin and Edwin H. McGee.

Main events of last year, bicycle races, the antique flea market and the art exhibit, will be repeated.

Bicycle races will start at 9 a.m. Sept. 24, with junior and senior races scheduled and one race with entrants limited to Fairfax children.

The flea market will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sept. 24. The art show will be held both days, with a children's art exhibit included.

A museum in the city pavilion, devoted to Fairfax history and collections and antiques loaned by citizens, will be open both days.

Chang's International Folk Dancers of San Francisco will perform on Sept. 24, following a 1 p.m. concert by the 12th Naval District Band.

A fashion show by Valerie Ann Dress Shop of Mill Valley is scheduled for 1 p.m. Sept. 23.

Assessments Topic For Radio Panelist

Equalization of county property tax assessments will be discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on Radio KTIM Sounding Board by Bert W. Broemmel, county assessor, and Douglas J. Maloney, county counsel.

Listeners may telephone questions to the two officials during the broadcast which, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Ryan Won't Run For Younger's Congress Post

REDWOO DCITY (AP)— Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, decided Monday against running for the 11th District Congressional seat made vacant by the death of Rep. J. Arthur Younger, R-Calif.

Ryan, a Democrat from South San Francisco, said he felt sure some other member of his party could win.

Four Republicans have announced they will run. They are Sheriff Earl Whitmore; Paul N. McCloskey, a Palo Alto attorney; Robert R. Barry, former New York congressman; and William Draper III, an investment broker.

Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, former child motion picturestar who is now a Woodside housewife, says she is considering entering the race as a Republican.

Second School Entry Probed

Marin County Juvenile Bureau is investigating the entering of Deer Park School, Fairfax, by five children, aged 6 to 9 years, to play with toys.

According to sheriff's deputies, the children gained entry Sunday about 11:30 a.m. by climbing on a roof, opening including puppets by dropped through to a room inside.

They found a number of toys, including puppets byt dropped them and fled when they thought they were being watched, said officers.

SOME CREATURES GET ALONG

In these days of human clouting human all over the globe, at least animals that are traditional enemies seem to be getting along in friendly fashion. Princess, a small Italian greyhound, had adopted two three-day-old kittens and is nursing them. She took over because their own mother was unable to feed them due to surgery. Princess also has her own puppy, now three weeks old. The togetherness bit is going on at the La Petite Pet Salon in San Rafael. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

WATCH OUT FOR SHARK'S PAWS

Credit the Tiburon City Council with the trick of the week. Monday it approved a city seal with a "shark rampant."

Rampant, according to Webster's, means ". . . rearing upon the hind legs with forelegs or forepaws extended."

Housing Leader

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The most active housing area in the United States during 1966 was the New York metropolitan district, where 44,900 new residential units were authorized, reports the Census Bureau.

Late Hours At Assessor's Office Urged

The county assessor should keep his office open some evenings and on Satrudays so that commuters could protest the increase in the assessment of their property, the Novato City Council declared last night.

"People who work elsewhere are faced with either taking a day off and losing a day's wages, or just allowing the increased assessment to go unchallenged," said councilman William Jack Adams.

The Novato City Council two weeks ago asked assessor Bert Broemmel to hod assessor's information meetings in the Novato Community House so that residents of north Marin would not have to go to the civic center. This was done four years ago. In a letter to the council last night, Broemmel rejected this idea.

Hospital May Be So Crowded That Patients Will Be In Halls

Patients in the medical-surgical section of Marin General Hospital may have to be placed in the hospital corridors this fall, administrator Ray K. Bolinger warned the hospital district board last night.

Bolinger told the board that the number of patients for the first six months of this year was higher than expected and a normal decrease in patients expected during the summer has not occured. He said that pojectioners based on the increased number of patients indicates the medical-surgical section may be filled beyond capacity this fall or winter.

The hospital treated an average of 16 more patients a day for the first six months of this year than were treated in the same period last year, he said. Medical-surgical occupancy was at 80 per cent during May of 1966 and at 87 per cent during June of 1966. This year occupancy was at 87 per cent during May and 88 per cent during June.

If facilities are filled, admission of "elective" patients, or patients who do not have an urgent need for hospital care, can be delayed, but patients who need immediate hospitalization would be admitted, even if they had to be placed in the halls, he said.

The board discussed ways of financing hospital expansion — A bond issue was mentioned, but the discussion ended inconclusively. Bolinger said a committee may be appointed to study the problem and suggest solutions.

The Marin Hospital District Board also:

PSYCHIATRIC UNIT — Was told that the interim psychiatric unit was opened July 10 to 11 patients have been admitted so far.

SOIL TESTS — Authorized Bolinger to get estimates on soil testing at the site of the new Community Mental Health Center and approved change orders for the center totaling $3,055.

BON AIR REALIGNMENT — Authorized purchase of up to 30,000 cubic yards of fill at 90 cents a yard for the area across Bon Air Road which the hospital seeks to purchase to realign the road, if the purchase is made.

CLAIM — Learned hospital volunteer Rose M. Ehler of Greenbrae has submitted a claim for damages totaling $13,645. Mrs. Ehler claims she fractured her right knee cap in a fall at the hospital March 26. The claim was referred to the hospital's insurance carrier.

APPRAISAL — Allocated $5,975 for an appraisal of the hospital's fixed assets by Marshall and Stevens Co. of San Francisco. Bolinger said the appraisal was needed to determine depreciation under Medicare and Medi-Cal.

Nearly 914,000 miles of roads and streets in the United States are still unpaved, says the National Automobile Club.

Water District Proposed As South Marin Sewage Unit

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

Marin Municipal Water District, which went into the sewage business with its annexation of Marincello, may expand to handle sewage disposal throughout Southern Marin.

The possibility was disclosed today by the district's general manager, William R. Seeger, who said a sewer report to the county board of supervisors is due "momentarily" from Brown and Caldwell, San Francisco consulting engineers hired to prepare a waste disposal plan for the county.

Seeger said he understands Brown and Caldwell will recommend that a treatment plant at Tennessee Cove handle sewage from throughout Southern Marin.

This would require an all-over district covering the Southern Marin area. Seeger said he has learned that the water district will be recommended as able to perform this role.

He said he has discussed the possibility with Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows.

Seeger said Brown and Caldwell, in a letter to Frouge Corp., asked that Marincello treatment plant construction be considered in relation to the proposed Tennessee Cove plant. Seeger said he foresaw no difficulty in this.

The board of supervisors, in approving MMWD's request to annex Marincello, asked that the district also handle the planned community's sewage. MMWD directors agreed to do so.

Frouge Corp. announced today the Marincello treatment plant, on a five-acre site in the southwest corner of the planned community, is to be constructed in three stages, based on the population growth of Marincello.

The outfall from the plant will extend into deep water in Bonita Channel 1,500 feet offshore, the plan shows.

First stage of the treatment plant will be designed to serve 8,000 residents.

Decision On Sumbardo Postponed Until Fall

By ALAN JONES

The Fairfax City Council last night postponed until September or later a decision on combining the jobs of City Administrator David J. Sumbardo and City Engineer Richard Nelson.

Mayor George Pagni named Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Adelaide P. Wilson to study "meaningful" ways to cut city costs, including combining jobs in "one department or many departments."

Combining the administrator and engineer, which has been discussed frequently since the administrator post was created in 1964, would cost Sumbardo or Nelson his job.

Sumbardo does not have an engineering degree, but the city could retain him and contract its engineering services.

Arrigoni and Mrs. Wilson are to produce a written report for the Sept. 11 council meeting.

The council met for another two hours last night after Monday's five-hour session to pare the 1967-8 budget, but still cut only approximately $11,000 from an estimated $20,000 deficit.

The council actually cut $19,000, but added another $8,000, mostly in salary raises.

Vehement protest from Arrigoni and park commissioners in the audience did not prevent cutting of $4,000 tagged for park landscaping.

Arrigoni said the city has stalled park improvements for at least six years. "You're balancing the budget by cutting out everything that's necessary," he said.

The council left $3,500 in the park budget for landscape planning, and Pagni indicated the landscaping money might be restored if the money becomes available later in the year.

The council also cut $1,290 in salaries for part-time park and recreation employees, then added $800 for renovating the park baseball infield.

Another $2,800 for cleaning Fairfax Creek was cut, along with $400 for traffic control.

Cuts made Monday included $8,665 from building inspection (a job taken over by Nelson), $1,000 from central services, $600 from the city attorney budget, and $944 from the administrator's budget.

The big increases were $3,000 for water mains, $1,800 for police salaries, and $1,600 for fire department salaries.

Other additions were $300 for Nelson's salary, $420 to the planning commission and $150 to the city clerk's office.

The budget now is down to approximatley $496,500, compared to last year's $526,000, but estimated revenue is only $487,485.

The shortage stems from a less than expected property value rise this year, giving the city a tax base of $13.7 million instead of the $14 million used in estimating budget income.

The council adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Monday, when it meets with the Marin County planning department staff to discuss the Fairfax general plan.

Novato Will Ask Grant Avenue Residents To Install Sidewalks

Property owners along Grant Avenue where there are no sidewalks will be asked to install them voluntarily, the Novato City Council ruled last night.

Lawrence A. Coleman, public works director, said that there are areas along the north side of Grant Avenue which could be made to install sidewalks under the Property Improvement Act of 1911.

"I would prefer to try to have the property owners do this on a voluntary basis before we apply the terms of the act," Coleman told the council.

The areas in question are a portion of the block between the Northwestern Pacific Railroad and Reichert Avenue, between Reichert and Machin avenues, between Highway 101 and First Street, between First and Second streets, and between Second and Third streets.

There are two areas, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and Sixth and Seventh streets, that do not come under the terms of the act, Coleman said.

Under the act, the council can require the improvements of curbs, gutters and sidewalks. The curbs and gutters are installed and all that now remains is to install the sidewalks, Coleman said. If the city does it, it would cost about $1,500 to $1,600 total, which is collectable from the property owners.

If the city goes ahead under the act, the council would be required to hold a public hearing. Then, if the work was not done in 60 days, the city could do it. The cost would be billed to the property owners who have up to 10 years to pay it with their taxes Coleman said.

The council also asked for a report within a month on the effort for voluntary improvements by the property owners before the city goes ahead under the 1911 act.

The Novato City Council also:

HOUSING—Approved a resolution in which the Marin County Housing Authority could lease up to 50 units in Novato for low income rentals. The council wanted a definition of neighborhoods made by its Aug. 29 meeting because in the resolution, not more than 10 per cent of any neighborhood can be leased by the federal government for this purpose.

ARROYO AVICHI — Authorized spending $1,353 more of city funds to complete the Arroyo Park by late August.

RIGHT-OF-WAY — Authorized the purchase of 2,970 square feet from Dexter used car lot on Diablo Avenue for the Diablo-De Long realignment project for $12,000, which was $350 more than the appraised value.

TRAFFIC — Authorized one-way traffic southbound on Service Road and northbound on Front Street between Diablo and Mirabella avenues in connection with the Diablo-De Long project.

STREETS — Authorized the expenditure in fiscal 1968 of $62,420 for streets maintenance from gasoline tax money.

NAME CHANGE — Referred to the planning commission, a request by Rev. Stanley Gjervik of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church at 1180 Oakwood Drive, that the name of Oakwood Drive be changed to Midway Terrace or Lynwood Terrace because there is an Oakwood Drive at Hamilton Air Force Base and people confuse the two.

FINANCE — Received the treasurer's report that the city's income in fiscal 1966-67 was $920,557, or $66,753 less than estimated originally. It spent $741,321 in the same period. The city had a balance in all of its funds of $797,649 at year's end.

SPECIAL MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m., Aug. 1, to hold a special meeting on city financing and a proposed bond issue with its financial consultant.

Youth Changes Plea On Charges

La Piere Harvey, 19, of 56 Cole Drive, Marin City withdrew his plea of innocent in Marin Municipal Court Monday to felony charges of marijuana possession and carrying a switchblade knife and pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of possessing a pipe for smoking narcotics.

A probation report was ordered and a hearing set for Aug. 18 at 10 a.m.

12 Strep Cases Reported In Marin

Twelve cases of strep infection led the list of communicable diseases last week in Marin County reported by Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

The health officer also reported eight cases of gonorrhea, five of mumps, and one each of measles, salmonella, and infectious hepatitis. There was also one case of serum hepatitis reported in Corte Madera.

Marin To Help Finance Research On Lagoon If It Controls Study

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, after resisting for a month, agreed yesterday to participate in a study to preserve Bolinas Lagoon — provided the county runs the study.

This means Marin will put up $7,500 as the first year of a total grant of $29,500 over three years to join numerous other agencies in the $126,800 program.

A later vote will be taken on a joint powers agreement asked by the supervisors to place the county in control. The $7,500 will be raised through a fund transfer.

The supervisors twice declined to join in the study, geared to support a Bolinas Lagoon Master Plan, because of questionable benefits. Originally backed by the planning commission, the study won new support yesterday from Public Works Director Donald R. Frost and Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske.

The lagoon, reportedly in danger of drying up because of intensive silting, will be the subject of detailed scientific tests. The county previously contributed $2,000 toward an ecological study there.

Working with the county will be the Bolinas Harbor District, contributing 40 per cent of the cost, and state, federal and private groups, donating 30 per cent. The county's share will be 24 per cent.

None of the other agencies voiced opposition yesterday to county control of the study, which County Administrator Alan Bruce considered necessary because of better staff to administer complex agreements under the program.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

DATA PROCESSING — Postponed until next Tuesday action on an estimated $79,190 contract for development of the county's data processing equipment to enable the Systems Development Corp. to review a critique of the agreement by the technical advisory committee, private consultants to the county.

ASSESSMENT — Took no action on a proposal by Economic Research Associates of Los Angeles to join in a proposal to change the method of assessing undeveloped rural acreage.

BUILDINGS — Amended the county building code clarifying regulations on apartment house height to afford better fire protection. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissented in the vote.

APPEALS BOARD —Asked for nomination of a Marin resident by the Northern California Chapter of the Association of International Architects in San Francisco to fill a vacancy on the board of permit appeals.

ROAD — Postponed until next Tuesday action on a county street plan amendment giving Marinwood rancher Manuel Silveira, blocked from access to Highway 101, permission to install a road to connect with the Miller Creek Road interchange.

GALLINAS CREEK — Agreed to hear property owners along Gallinas Creek in Santa Venetia at 1:45 p.m. Aug. 8 on requests for covered boat berths, previously rejected by the supervisors.

APPOINTMENTS — Named Brian Wittenkeller a park planner and Ellen Schuck a social service supervisor, both at $829 monthly.

Contract Has Minority Clause

Marin City Community Services District Directors this morning awarded a $279,999 contract for construction of Manzanita Community Center to Filippo Construction Co. of San Rafael.

The contract was awarded after the contractor and subguaranteeing employment of minority workers, particularly Marin City residents, Board Chairman Jesse E. Berry said.

Work is to begin by the end of the week and the center will open by March 1, 1968, Berry said.

Out Of Hospital

Novato councilman and former mayor M. E. Babe Silva returned to his home at 837 Sweetser Avenue, yesterday after being hospitalized in St. Francis Hospital, San Francisco, for the past eight days with a kidney ailment.

Police Help Needed

NORTHOLT, England (UPI) —Two policemen saw a speeding police car and followed it, hoping to give a helping hand to a colleague. But the driver turned out to be David Cooper, 19, who said he saw the car outside a police station and couldn't resist taking it. He was found guilty of car theft.

Credit Card Fraud Bill Is Timely Legislation

A Senate bill to check the rising incidence of credit card frauds, proposed by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, is a timely piece of legislation.

McCarthy's SB-1055 has passed the Senate and should face no major difficulty in the Assembly.

The measure changes and adds sections to the state penal code, tightening laws against credit card violations and stiffening the penalties for those convicted of such fraud.

Credit card buying, while convenient to the consumer, also makes it more convenient to anyone bent on easy living at the expense of someone else—the card holder.

Misplaced, lost or stolen credit cards, followed by a buying spree on the part of the finder or thief, can and have caused considerable grief to the buying public.

Any device to simplify conviction, increase the penalties, and thus dampen the temptation to defraud is welcome, particularly at a time when we are stepping into a vast new area of credit card buying.

More than two million new Master Charge cards are being issued this month in California by more than 70 of the state's leading banks. More than 70,000 different businesses will honor the Master Charge. This is about one of three businesses licensed in the state.

Credit card buying is here to stay. Our next task is to prevent or minimize credit card abuse.

Banks and other institutions which issue those cards must also share the responsibility of protecting cardholders. Among the millions of cards that are being mailed out, some may be lost or intercepted before they reach their destination, and even before the prospective cardholder is aware that a card in his name exists.

The consumer who has yet to receive his credit card should in no way be held responsible for cards lost in initial transit and subsequently used by an imposter to rack up a big bill.

Once the card reaches the customer, and the cardholder accepts by signing, then the major share of responsibility shifts to the consumer himself. He must immediately notify the appropriate institution the moment he misplaces or loses his charge card.

It will take the joint efforts of legislators, financial institutions which issue cards, and the consuming public to keep credit card frauds from getting out of hand.

Noah's Favorite Bird

Ever since Noah noted the dove returning to the ark with an olive twig, it has symbolized hope and peace. Marin's dove population seems to be increasing, perhaps because they are mainly seed eaters and more homes mean more seeds.

The Mourning Dove is an object of beauty, with his soft streamlines, subdued gray and pink coloration, and swift, graceful flight. He tends to flock with others of his kind on telephone lines for a half-song, half-sobbing chorus of cooing at dawn and as day ebbs away.

Doves are devoted parents, but sorry nestbuilders. A couple of sticks and a few leaves on the fork of a limb and that's it. Often you can see light through it and it seems a wonder that the eggs stay in them at all. But some Mourning Doves have as many as four families a season.

Because it is so prolific, the dove faces little danger of extinction.

Why Allow Retirement Credit For Out Of State Teachers?

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A fair example of the manner in which public money is squandered unnecessarily, or may be squandered if the state legislature so chooses, is seen in SB-539, by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka. This is a measure extending teacher retirement benefits through recognition of benefits earned in other states.

The measure, sponsored by the Association for Retirement Credit for Out of State Service, would cost California taxpayers between $700 and $800 million over a period of years, according to conservative estimates, if it is ever written into law.

IN BRIEF, IT provides that teachers coming to California with retirement credits in other states would have all or a portion of those credits posted with retirement credits posted to their account in California.

Proponents of this measure have argued for some years that it is necessary to enable the state to recruit out of state teachers to combat the teacher shortage in California.

However, the California Taxpayers Association said that statistics and surveys do not indicate that additional retirement benefits draw any more teachers to this state.

The association points out that in 1965, the department of finance surveyed more than 60,000 teachers from out of state, and found that 36 per cent moved to California for other purposes and then decided to teach; 34 per cent moved on their own initiative because of better salaries, climate or working conditions; nine per cent were recruited; 10 per cent came seeking a teaching job, and 11 per cent came to this state for other reasons.

THUS THERE is no percentage at all of teachers who came to California because of better retirement provisions here.

Not only the California Taxpayers Association, but also the California School Boards Association is against the bill, which has cleared the Senate and is now before the Assembly, where it stands a good chance of passing.

Previously, the bill has been stymied in the Senate. However, this year there were some extenuating circumstances which resulted in the measure coming out of the Senate finance committee, and being passed by the upper house.

The measure was being considered at the time Gov. Ronald Reagan signed the 1967-68 state budget and blue-penciled some $43 million out of the document.

IT WAS THOUGHT that the committee put the bill out in retaliation for this action, and thus planned to put the money on the governor's back as far as killing the measure through a veto is concerned.

Reagan has indicated he is in favor of better retirement for teachers, but also has said that this is not the year to increase retirement benefits. So in all probability, if the measure clears the Assembly, the governor will be forced to exercise his veto power if he wishes to keep the taxpayers from facing another bill of from $700 to $800 million in future years.

As far as the taxpayers are concerned, the principle involved is vital, for there seems to be no reason why California should pay retirement benefits earned in another state.

Hey Hon, Can I Borrow Just A Little Tad Of Your Perfume?

NEW YORK (AP) — The business of making American men smell nicer is skyrocketing. So is the business of making American women smell nicer.

"Only 10 years ago most men thought colognes were sissy, but they don't any more," said Alvin Welzel, a director of the Toilet Goods Association and vice president of the House of Houbigant.

"Men spent $120 million on fragrances in 1966, up 20 per cent from the year before. Women spent $440 million, which also represents a 20 per cent increase."

THE MASCULINE trend toward heavier and stronger scents leads many experts in the industry to predict that the U.S. male soon will go all the way and start wearing perfume as men did in past civilizations.

"It's coming," said Welzel, a slender, intellectual-looking man of 51 who switched to cosmetics merchandising after studying genetics and breeding in college.

"In many homes scents are already interchangeable, and husbands and wives use the same fragrances and deodorants."

To Welzel this is only a matter of history repeating itself. His company, founded in France in 1775, lists among its past clients not only Queen Victoria, Marie Antoinette and the Empress Eugenie, but also Napoleon Bonaparte and French author Guy de Maupassant.

NAPOLEON WAS so enamoured of the sweet smell of success that he used 54 bottles of cologne a month and carried them with him to his battlefields. One would think that on a windy day the odor would have alerted the enemy to his presence.

Welzel is full of odd tidbits of the lore of perfumes which, he says, originated as tributes to the gods, then were restricted to kings and nobles. Only in recent times have they reached the purse level of the common people.

"The Greek physician Hippocrates prescribed perfumes for patients suffering from nervous disorders," he said. "During the banquets of ancient Greek aristocrats, doves were soaked in perfume and then let loose to fly around the room.

"THE ROMANS even waged wars to bring home perfumes and spices. Nero often had perfume showered from the ceilings of his dining saloon.

"The household of Mme. de Pompadour spent $100,000 a year on perfume, and Cardinal Richelieu used a perfumed bellows to sweeten the air of his apartment."

A fragrance may contain from a score to a hundred or more ingredients, and some women make a hobby of compounding their own perfumes.

"Anybody can make a perfume," said Welzel, whose trained nose can differentiate more than 500 odors. "But it is quite another matter to create one that will become classic."

WELZEL FEELS perfume leadership has passed from France to the United States.

"The average American woman now spends $8 a year for perfume, which is more than French women can afford," he said. "Definitely, American women smell nicer."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Here's Offer For Free Dinner

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mrs. L. V. Nelson is not alone in feeling that another restaurant is needed in Corte Madera. I also understand her concern about the problem of attracting businesses to come to Corte Madera. It took the Co-op several years to locate in Corte Madera and even then it had to get in via the "back door" by building on unincorporated land. Upon completion of phase I the town fathers were kind enough to let the Co-op annex into the town and accept our real estate and sales taxes.

I am, however, happy to inform Mrs. Nelson and others who have expressed an interest in the situation that a new restaurant is now being built in Corte Madera. Phase II of Co-op Marin will have a Miz Brown's Restaurant similar to those in San Francisco and the East Bay.

Although I am not familiar with the chain mentioned by Mrs. Nelson I feel certain enough that the quality of food and service will compare favorably. Perhaps Mrs. Nelson would like to be my guest for lunch on opening day early in October to make her own comparison. We would welcome her opinion.

New Halt In Bombing Likely After South Viet's September Election

WASHINGTON — There are substantial signs that a new bombing pause over part of North Vietnam is in the making.

This means that the kind of let's negotiate, staged de-escalation of bombing, which Rep. F. Bradford Morse of Massachusetts and seven House Repbulicans are uging, is definitely not to be ruled out.

Two high administration officials have said privately that there is nothing in principle in the Morse plan which the administration opposes or which it couldn't try.

I find increasing receptiveness for the Morse proposal in important quarters in Washington, and it is obviously winning considerable public support.

My judgment is that the only major difference between the Johnson administration and the Morse group is a matter of timing.

On this basis it would not be at all surprising to see the U. S. implementing the Morse proposal — or an administration version similar to it — not long after the South Vietnamese elections in September.

HERE IS WHAT Morse and his colleagues specifically propose:

The U. S. halt bombing of North Vietnam north of the 21st parallel for 60 days. This area includes Hanoi but not Haiphong. If North Vietnam responds with a similarly limited and similarly verifiable de-escalatory step of its own choosing, the U. S. would then take another step of its own, namely, extend its bombing ban to all of North Vietnam north of the 20th parallel. The hope is that this might open the way to a series of reciprocal steps to end the bombing of North Vietnam and the North Vietnamese invasion of the South.

Did Secretary of State Dean Rusk reject this approach for all time when he said at his latest press conference that the U. S. isn't going to "give up half of the war" (the air war) while Hanoi continues all of its war unimpeded?

I think not — for two reasons.

THE ADMINISTRATION itself tried something similar to the Morse plan in late 1966 and early 1967, but did not spell it out to the North Vietnamese.

There is no reason why some variant shouldn't be tried again soon, particularly in view of Rusk's own assessment that North Vietnam "is hurting badly" and thus might be more disposed to respond to de-escalation.

Furthermore, the Morse proposal does not mean that the U. S. would be abandoning "half of the war." It only means that for a time the U. S. would be abandoning relatively little to give Hanoi a new opportunity to decide if it wants to reciprocate.

THE REPUBLICAN Congressmen cite six reasons why their plan "may have a chance to succeed where others have failed."

It does not require Hanoi to take the first step — or that the first step be simultaneous by both governments.

It does not require major public "conference table" negotiations.

It affords an opportunity to North Vietnam to undertake its own diplomatic initiatives and an opportunity to "save face."

It offers a means by which steps toward de-escalation can be taken slowly and with complete verification, thereby building confidence on each side in the word and credibility of the other.

It does not deal in ultimatums or threats.

These are valid arguments. They come from a group of Republicans who are strong supporters of the defense of South Vietnam and who are not trying to make petty political capital out of some half-baked peace scheme. The administration cannot lightly brush them aside and I do not think it will.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Westmoreland On Brink Of Resigning

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's decision to send "necessary" additional troops to Vietnam avoided a MacArthur-like blowup.

At one point during the tense White House discussions on military requirements, Gen. William Westmoreland, commander of all U. S. forces in Vietnam, threatened to resign if additional troops were not forthcoming.

The resignation crisis, according to reliable congressional sources, occurred when General Westmoreland thought the President had turned down his troop request during their White House meeting with Defense Secy. Robert McNamara and Gen. Earle Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

AFTER OPENING the meeting by telling Westmoreland that he had thoroughly studied his request for additional forces, the President reported:

"Secretary McNamara has recommended against increasing U. S. force levels above the 480,000 already authorized. By a better utilization of existing forces, he believes you can get along with the troops already committed to your command."

"Mr. President, if that is your decision," replied the partially stunned General Westmoreland, "there is only one thing left for me to do — offer you my resignation. If I did not do so . . ."

"There has been no final decision. None will be made until after you give your personal report on military requirements. Since you probably have not had time to confer with the secretary since he made his recommendations, I was stating his position."

WITH THIS assurance that the troop question was still open, Westmoreland then made a ringing defense of his request for 70,000 additional troops.

Several times the veteran Army general stressed that his request represented "the minimum number of additional troops needed in face of increasing North Vietnam military pressure."

"To replace our battle casualities, hold to our troop rotation program, and keep the military initiative in Vietnam," stated Westmoreland, "I must have these additional forces."

"Lack of replacements in recent weeks," Westmoreland pointed out, "has forced a number of Marine and Army units to operate with less than 80 per cent strength while in combat."

WHEN McNAMARA challenged General Westmoreland's report by arguing that more of the rear area troops should be pressed into combat, Westmoreland answered:

"We are making use of every combat soldier we have in Vietnam as I reported to the secretary during his recent visit to Vietnam. There are few areas in South Vietnam that are not considered combat areas."

In his reply McNamara said he was referring to the general ratio of non-combat to combat troops in Vietnam, stating that he thought this number could be reduced.

After General Wheeler reported that the Joint Chiefs of Staff has endorsed General Westmoreland's request, the President authorized a build-up to more than 500,000 U. S. troops from the present authorized level of 480,000 — with the level of 500,000 troops to be reached by next January.

HOWEVER, THE President at McNamara's request, left open the question of when and from what sources the remaining 50,000 troops are to be committed. He stated that a time-table for these forces could be worked out in October when another Vietnam review would be held.

Militant Rodent Lovers Lobby To Keep Slums Safe For Rats

WASHINGTON — Last week, the House of Representatives voted down an urban control bill by a vote of 207-176. The bill, which would have provided $20 million a year for the eradication of rats in slums, was a victory for U.S. rodent lovers who have been militantly fighting any legislation to control rats in the United States.

Elated over the vote was Walter Ferret, lobbyist for the National Rat Association, who said, "Congress' vote against rat control has spoken for the majority of the American people who are getting fed up with the government dictating to them whether they should have rats or not. The Constitution provides that everyone shall have the right to keep rats in his home, and the NRA has been leading the fight to protect this constitutional guarantee."

"But don't you feel that rats are dangerous and can cause a great deal of trouble?"

"THIS IS the propaganda put out by the anti-rat people. Most rats are safe and give pleasure to people. The few rats who cause all the trouble cannot be controlled by legislation. I see no reason why the American people should be deprived of rats just because there is an occasional rat incident that makes the headlines."

"Sir, one of the criticisms made by people asking for strong anti-rat legislation is that it is so easy to get rats these days. All you have to do is leave your garbage pail open overnight and you can have rats the next morning. Don't you think some laws should be made so rats won't get into the homes of innocent people?"

"I'd like to make the policy of the NRA very clear on this point, because our position has been so distorted in the press. The National Rat Association is not opposed to every law aimed at trying to control rodents. We are only opposed to those laws that would eradicate all rats in the United States, just because some people don't like rats.

"WE WOULD SUPPORT a bill in Congress that would keep rats from getting into the homes of the wrong people. We think the police and local law enforcement agencies should be strengthened and that the rat problem should be turned over to them.

"The penalties for misusing rats should be meted out to those anti-social elements in our society who have given honest rat fanciers a bad name. We can't lose sight of our history because of the hysteria of the do-gooders and the bureaucrats who think they can solve every problem through federal law.

"This country has had rats since it was founded. There have been rats with the armed forces in every way; we have had rats in the Capitol and even in the basement of the White House. You kill all the rats in America and you'll leave this nation naked and defenseless. Congress in its wisdom has seen fit not to fool with the rodent population of the United States and for this reason I can only say, 'God bless our rat-loving legislators.' "

"That's a little strong, isn't it, Mr. Ferret?"

"IT'S NOT strong enough. We won this year but you can be sure we'll be under attack again next year. So I can't rest on my lobbying victory."

"Do you have any message for the American people?"

"Just this. Whenever anyone starts talking to them about anti-rodent legislation, I wish they would keep the NRA slogan in mind: 'The rats you save may be your own.' "

Hippies Good Wig Customers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bill Hansen, who sells wigs, says he is doing a brisk business with would - be hippies.

"I guess they want to be hippies but they have to be conservative for business reasons, he said in explaining the sales of shoulder length wigs.

And how much does it cost to be a weekend hippie? Hansen sells wigs for $85, mustaches for $45, a goatee for $85 and a full beard for $125.

Tiburon Planning Commission Should Rescind 'Secret' Vote

The letter of the Ralph M. Brown Act may be open to interpretation, but the spirit of this section of the government code is clear — that the people have a right to be informed about actions of their public bodies.

In a recent affair in Tiburon, there were various reactions to the news of an election of officers by the Tiburon Planning Commission in a closed session in June, uncovered by a letter to the commission by Anne L. Ellinwood.

THE AFTERNOON the story appeared, I had a call from an irate Tiburon resident who said he was "shocked to learn of this action taken in a secret meeting."

Since the commission took no action in its following meeting to rescind its election and hold it in public, as Miss Ellinwood requested, I asked chairman Erik Rettig for his reaction. In the closed meeting, Rettig and vice-chairman John McChesney were re-elected.

Rettig said he felt the commission's action was proper. He commented, "You don't always have to obey the rules and regulations," and he felt "nobody was hurt" by the secret election.

LATER THAT WEEK, City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose upheld the commission's action on the ground that possibly commissioners had also intended to discuss charges and complaints against an elected officer or an employee, which subjects are legal in closed sessions.

In that case, should not the commission have announced a closed session for the personnel discussion and conducted its election in public?

Surely the public has a right to know when closed sessions are held, even if details of the discussions are never made public.

"NOBODY WAS hurt"?

Is not the public interest always hurt when a public body makes a decision for the people in secret?

Miss Ellinwood, a former city councilman, said she felt strongly about the commission's decision to ignore her suggestion of holding another election in public. "I cannot understand the determined intransigence of chairman Rettig and presumably other members of the commission," she said. "They are seven honest, dedicated and immensely talented men. Why they should put this fine public image in jeopardy is beyond me. If a mistake was made, how easy to rectify it!"

She also brought up this point: "I even wonder if at any time in the future, a challenge could be made as to the validity of any action taken at a meeting by a chairman who was not chosen publicly for public office."

MISS ELLINWOOD recalled that earlier this year, the Tiburon City Council took a stand opposing two of Assemblyman William T. Bagley's bills to tighten the Brown Act spelling out its application to all committee meetings. Mayor John S. Hoffmire asked for support of Tiburon's position from the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, but was turned down, she recalled.

Tiburon's hard-working seven-man commission has just finished an exhausting schedule of three public hearings and four discussion-revision meetings on an important document: The city's proposed zoning ordinance.

With this pressure off, in its next regualr meeting, the commission could surely take five minutes to rectify a questionable procedure and hold its election openly.

FAIRHILLS

BELLISSIMO!

Perched on a delightful Fairhills hillside is this well built, 2-level house for a large family. Matched paneling keynotes the entry level, where it's been used to perfection in the living room, dining room, family room and bedroom hall. Three bedrooms, one of which is divided for two children, & 2 baths on the main floor, with 2 more bedrooms, bath, utility room and workshop on the lower level. There are views from two decks, and old oaks have been carefully preserved and the house built around them.

in the architectural sense are apparent in every room of this house which draws its inspiration from the timeless design philosophy of Frank Lloyd Wright. Joseph Esherick has fashioned an extraordinary home that makes the outdoors part of each room's setting, and the landscaping by Murata has made privacy and a sweeping view the keynote. 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, separate dining room.

$54,500

TALENT FOR LIVING

Yours, in this 3-bedroom, 2-bath Fairhills house where you can live life to its fullest in the spacious rooms and on the almost acre of land. Solidly built for permanence, the house has French doors leading to 2 levels of deck, family-sized kitchen, separate dining room with built-in buffets & large family room with fireplace. Storage areas have been well planned, including a work room. The gardens are lovely, and there are several pool sites and room to park 10 cars.

ALL-AROUND ELEGANCE

You'll be conscious of the aura of stylish elegance that pervades this custom home from your first welcome at the double front doors to the gracious living room with its panoramic bay views from floor-to-ceiling windows. The main floor features a formal dining room, cheerful electric kitchen, master bedroom suite, paneled den & 2 baths. The lower level is designed for children, with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, utility room and playroom. There's storage space for all your possessions. Private cul-de-sac location, with oaks and eucalyptus.

Minimum Daily Diet Of Vitamins Is Hit

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON — A whole industry and way of life have been built around the notion that there is a "minimum daily requirement" of vitamins, as proclaimed on the cereal box and ads.

But according to a couple of Texas biochemists, there probably is no such thing.

The U.S. Government, since 1941, has been issuing minimum daily requirement figures for vitamins and minerals. A couple of years ago the prestigious National Academy of Sciences took a look at the situation and issued revised standards it calls recommended dietary allowances. They both tell the average person what to eat, and provide grist for advertisers' mills.

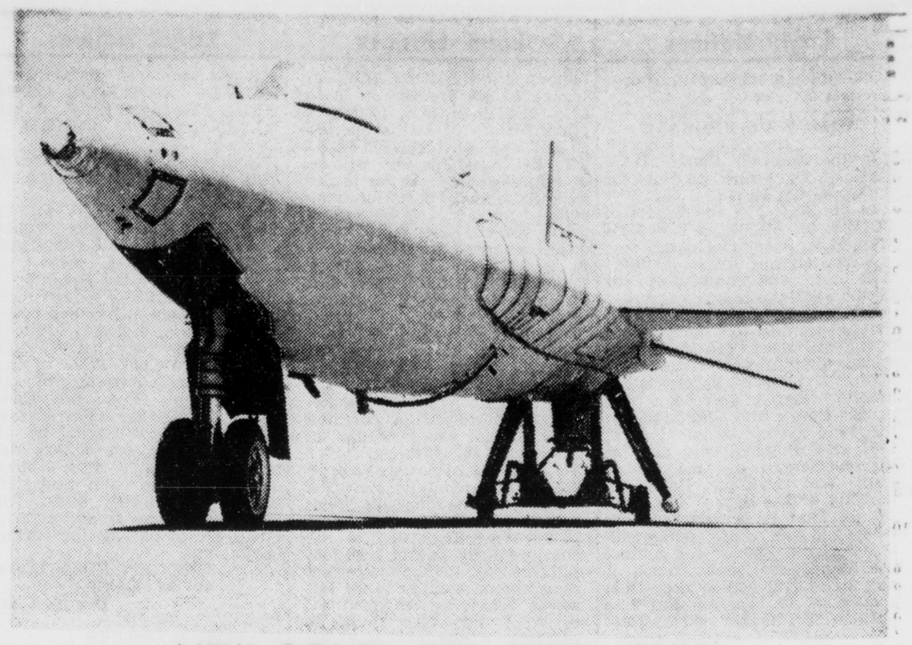
Both minimums, however, depend on the belief that there is an average person. There is no average at all, say Drs. Roger J. Williams and Gary Deason of the University of Texas at Austin. As far as vitamin needs are concerned, from studies of vitamin C in 101 guinea pigs, they conclude the wide range of individual vitamin needs cannot be met by referring to a statistical average. One group thrived on 0.2 milligrams of vitamin C, but no better or worse than a group on 3.2.

According to the Texas researchers, one person might need 20 times as much vitamin C as another for normal growth and health.

Vitamin C, found in citrus fruits, tomatoes and other vegetables, plays an obscure but essential role in building connective tissue and keeping it healthy. Too little vitamin C results in loose teeth, weak bones, anemia, scurvy and infertility. Therapeutically, the vitamin is used in some cases of infections, allergies, bleeding ulcers and lead poisoning.

Evidence that human need for vitamin C, and probably other vitamins as well, varies extremely from person to person upsets the orderliness of science, Dr. Williams points out, and it is not likely to be readily adopted.

"If it is possible to deal with people successfully on the basis of average, there is enormous advantage," he says. But in the case of nutrients, it can't be done.



NEW COLOR FOR SPEED TEST

The X-15 has undergone a color change from its familiar black to white in preparation for a try at a new world speed record for winged aircraft. The white paint, accordnig to officials at Edwads Air Force Base, is a material that dissipates heat and is designed to protect the fuselage and the pilot from the high temperatures generated at hypersonic speeds. 'Hot Wire' Protection For Capitol Building

By WAT TAKESHITA

SACRAMENTO — If another Black Panther invasion or similar disturbance erupts in the State Capitol Building, Sacramento police reinforcements will be converging on the building in about three minutes because of "hot-wire" communication, according to the man in charge of Capitol security.

Lt. Ernest G. Holloway, 56, who commands the California State Police in the state Capitol, said increased communication and better liaison with intelligence units in police departments throughout the state are the major improvements made since a group of armed Negroes marched into the Assembly chambers last May 2.

Manpower has been increased by two men. Lieutenant Holloway and his Desk Officer Clyde Chapman had a staff of four officers at the time of the Black Panther invasion.

"We now have two more men assigned to us and are authorized to use more overtime," said Holloway. In addition, electronic devices have been installed on doors leading into the Governor's offices so that a stranger is not able to enter without detection.

Legislation to control such incidents as the armed invasion is in the mill in the Legislature but have not yet been passed the lieutenant noted.

"We are also in the process of negotiating for closed circuit television which we would monitor," said Lieutenant Holloway. "My understanding is that the TV would watch such areas as the Governor's office, entrance to the Senate and Assembly chambers and possibly various committee rooms that are being used."

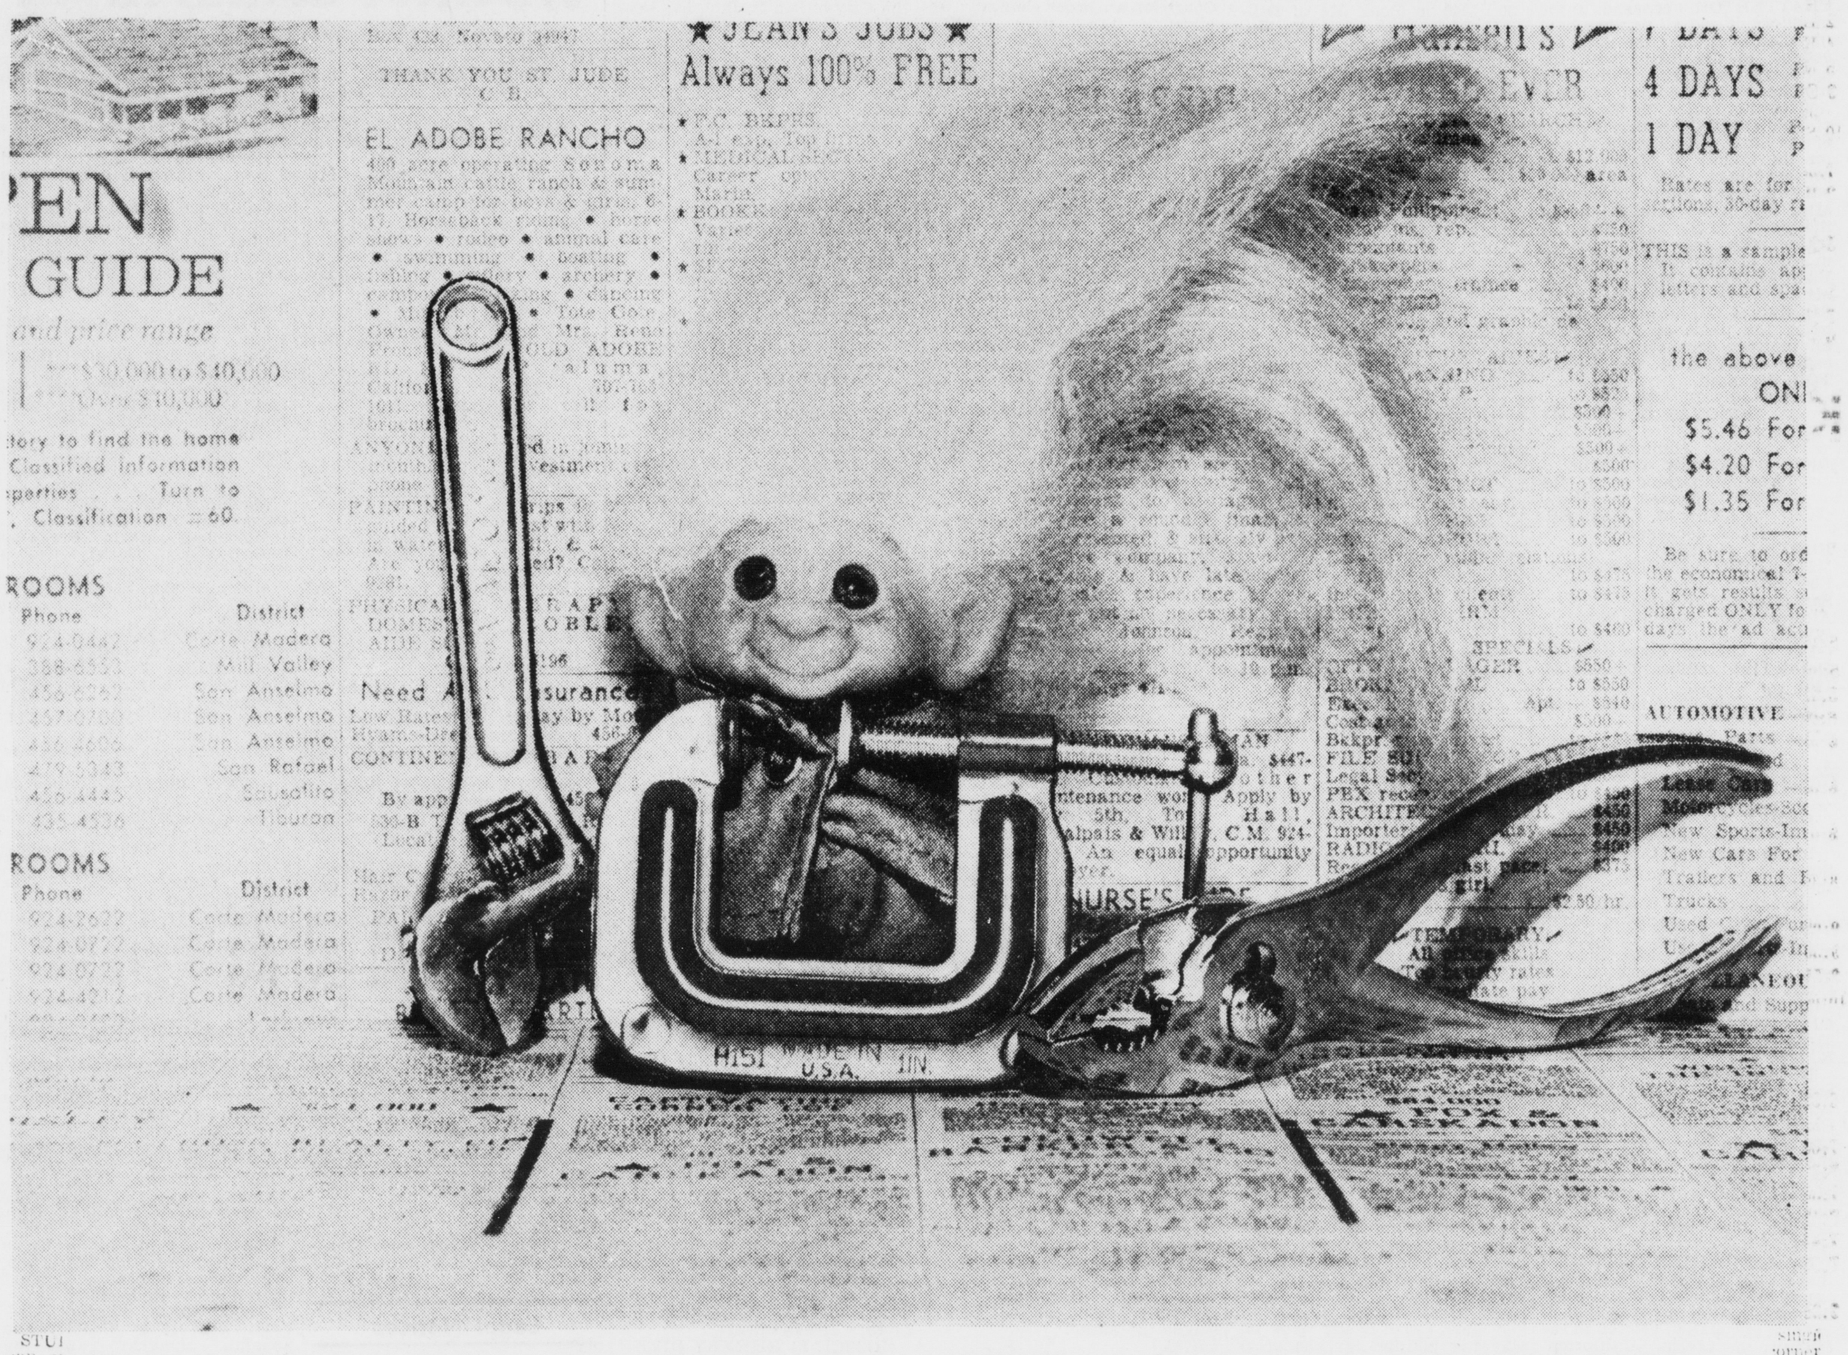
He said he also heard of plans to install electronic devices on doors leading to the Senate and Assembly chambers, but this has not been done as yet.

The lieutenant, however, places greatest reliance on the improved communication system and the "hot-wire" hookup with Sacramento police. "We can never economically have enough men on hand to take care of a riot; we have to call in reinforcements."

"If I were to call for emergency help now, I'd expect to see some city police here within two or three minutes," said Holloway. Besides, he said there is far better communication with intelligence units of various metropolitan police departments who keep him informed. "I don't think we will be completely surprised again."

Lieutenant Holloway, who has served on the State Police for 30 years, had just taken over command on the State Police on the morning of the Black Panther invasion. "We knew what we were doing, what our rights were and what their (Black Panthers) rights were. Our primary concern was not to endanger the lives of innocent citizens in order to arrest some vandal or hoodlum for a misdemeanor."

He reaclled that school teachers with dozens of children were milling about in the hallways, not to mention legislators and other adults, and the use of weapons would have ended in tragedy for many innocent people.



Tam High District Hit Over Trash In Hub Creek

Frank A. Bonetti and William A. Reardon, both of Saunders Avenue, had asked for time on the agenda, but had not specified their topic. Both registered angry complaints against Sir Francis Drake High School.

Bonetti complained that San Anselmo Creek is "filthy," that the high school officials refuse to clean it or even to refrain from adding to the trash in the creek. Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell confirmed Bonetti's charge. "We have gotten no cooperation from the Tamalpais High School District," he said.

He said he had received many complaints from residents near the high school that school personnel dump cuttings into the creek. "You can clean up the creek on private property and put a lien on the property to pay for it, but how do you put a lien on a school district?" Leitzell asked.

Reardon's complaint was that the "obnoxious temporary buildings" being built by the high school on Saunders Avenue are a detriment to the community and will depreciate the property of residents there.

Leitzell confirmed that the buildings do not conform to the city's zoning ordinance setback requirements but said he understood from City Atty. John G. Buresh that the city could not enforce its zoning requirements on the school district. He said he had made school officials "aware of the setback requirements, but they didn't feel they could conform to them."

Buresh was not at last night's meeting, but Mayor Arthur W. Smith asked City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel to check with the city attorney to learn whether the city had any recourse against the district regarding the complaints.

Escaping Chlorine Hospitalizes 20

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A cloud of deadly green chlorine gas billowed up from a railroad tank car today and sent at least 20 people choking and rasping to a hospital.

Two workers put on gas masks and shut off the leak within 10 minutes. Apparently the gas diffused in the breeze, so that no serious damage was done.

Pope Sees Turkey's Most Sacred Shrine

EPHESUS, Turkey (UPI)— Pope Paul VI arrived today in Ephesus on a solemn pilgrimage to the city that tradition says was the last residence of the Virgin Mary and was the home of Saints Paul and John. It is Turkey's most sacred Christian shrine.

The pontiff arrived by car from nearby Izmir, site of a major NATO base and the legendary birthplace of Homer.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "You Dollar's Worth" presents "Gasoline," an examination of the various brands of gas sold by major and independent petroleum companies. Experts rate their performance, question the validity of some of their advertising claims and consider the various prices of high test, regular and independent gasolines.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 9 p.m. — "The Bob Hope Theater" will offer "The Lady Is My Wife," starring Jean Simmons as the prize in a game of billiards played on horseback between her husband and her admirer.

KGO (7), 9 p.m. — Stuart Whitman and Peter Falk star in the movie "Murder, Inc." on "Wednesday Night At The Movies."

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10 p.m. — Guest stars John Byner, Fred Smoot and the Pair Extraordinaire join the regulars on "The Steve Allen Comedy Hour."

Senior Citizen Chairman Named

Mrs. William J. Mann of San Rafael was named yesterday as head of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District senior citizens program to succeed John W. Williams who is joining the Santa Clara Recreation Department.

Salary of Mrs. Mann, who lives at 769 Del Ganada Road, has not been set.

Mrs. Mann reported that members agreed to expand the program and set an organizational meeting for 10 a.m., Aug. 8 at the center, 670 Del Ganada Road. A farewell luncheon was given for Williams.

Tennessee led seven other southeastern states in the rate of increase in non-farm employment in 1966 with a total of 1,223,000 jobs.

Auto Is Looted

John Graham of 20 Chateau Place, San Rafael, told police that between 12:30 and 8 a.m. Monday, someone forced open the door of his son's car and stole a radio and seven tape recordings, valued at $172.

Sausalito Voter Deadline Nears

Deadline to register for Sausalito's special library referendum election Sept. 19 is 5 p.m. tomorrow, City Clerk Miriam B. Ansell today reminded voters who have changed residence or failed to vote in the last general election.

The election will decide whether the council may build a new waterfront library through a lease-purchase plan. The referendum was requested by 661 voters after a $250,000 library bond measure was defeated March 7 and the council decided to proceed with the library on lease-purchase.

Deadline to submit arguments for and against the referendum proposal, also to City Hall, is 5 p.m. Aug. 4, said Mrs. Ansell. To date, no arguments have been submitted.

Budget Of $19,154 Is Given Nod

Directors prepared a tentative $22,000 budget July 10, but cut it Monday to hold the property tax rate at last year's 55 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Principal cut was $2,750 toward the district's contribution for relocation of the Mill Valley sewage treatment plant outfall line. Total district share is $5,500, but will not be levied for two to three years, Dawe said.

Edward Prosch, 115 Wisteria Way, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Robert A. Alexander, who resigned July 10. His term expires Dec. 31.

Dawe was elected chairman, replacing Alexander, and Herbert E. Davis was elected secretary, replacing Dawe.

Directors also agreed to use the county building inspection department for inspection work in the district, replacing G. V. S. Harvey, former district inspector who resigned last month.

Delegate Named For Convention

The College of Marin chapter of the California School Employees Association has elected chapter president John O. Douglass delegate to the 41st annual CSEA conference in Los Angeles August 1-5.

Douglass of 510 Valley Road, Sausalito, reported about 850 delegates at the meeting will consider a budget of more than $800,000 and act upon over 30 resolutions and legislative proposals.

THE CUB GAMBLE THAT FAILED

Chicago's Ted Savage was tagged out by Cardinal catcher Tom McCarver on this ninth inning play last night as St. Louis nipped the Cubs 4-3 in their crucial National League game at St. Louis. It was a Chicago gamble that failed. Story on page 42. (UPI Telephoto)

Comedy At Candlestick But Giants Laugh Last

Sports

FOURTH SECTION Wednesday, July 26, 1967

The Giants, playing their customary style of erratic defense, leaned about as hard as they could last night on Jim Ray Hart without toppling him over, but the hardhitting left fielder was able to carry the big burden as San Francisco edged the New York Mets 5-4 at Candlestick Park.

Hart hit his 13th home run this month with two on base in the third inning to cap a four-run outburst against Met starting pitcher Jack Fisher and give Gaylord Perry a 4-0 lead.

Perry rolled along unscathed by Met batting or Giant fielding for six innings, which gave everybody in the crowd of 12,165 a chance to consider Mr. Hart's vendetta against National League pitchers in July.

With his 13 homers and assorted other thrusts he has accounted for 27 runs batted in and compiled a batting average of .442. His batting average now stands at .305, tops among Giant regulars, and his RBI at 73, second in the league to Jim Wynn's 76. His 24 homers trail only the 25 of Hank Aaron and Wynn. He leads that fellow over in St. Louis, Orlando Somethingorother, in both departments.

But back to Mr. Perry, whose betrayal last night was a many-splendored thing to which several of his teammates contributed. He must have started wondering who his friends were in the seventh, when Willie Mays overran a ground single that led to an unearned run. This was just prologue, however, to a series of defensive gems that victimized Perry in the ninth.

He got one out and then lost Ed Charles on a single. Catcher Tom Hailer helped Charles along with his second passed ball of the evening and rookie third baseman Bob Etheridge chipped in with an error on Phil Linz's grounder. An infield hit by Greg Goosen loaded the bases, as Pery considered suing for separation from the Giants on grounds of non-support.

It was Jesus Alou's turn next. Pinch-hitter John Sullivan, whose only two RBI this season had beaten the Giants in May and plated the Mets' first run last night, crashed a long fly to right-centerfield. Alou started after it, slowed down figuring Mays would catch it and than watched Willie almost strain himself through the cyclone fence as the ball dropped safely.

49ers Lead League In One Category

EASEL ACES — The San Francisco 49ers, who at times in the past decade have played like Whistler's Mother while winding up on the canvas — to borrow a boxing term — lead the National Football League in culture if nothing else.

Since 1957 the team has had at least one accomplished artist on the roster. The original Rembrandt in 49er clothing was Jim Ridlon of the 1957-62 era, not to be confused with error. Then Bernie Casey, a real Van Gogh, came along in 1961 but was traded off during the winter, presumably to the Palace of Fine Arts.

But never fear, you culture vultures, it turns out that second year defensive back Alvin Randolph wields a mean brush and will carry on the tradition.

BILLIARD BUFFS will be interested to know that C. R. "Bucktooth" Cook, billed as The Houdini of Pocket Billiards, will exhibit his talents at Dominic's Old Time Billiards, 509 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, Saturday at 8 p.m. Bucktooth, whose cue is called "Money Tree" for obvious reasons, is said to have 269 unbelievable trick shots in his repertoire. Admission to the exhibition is free.

The Shadow Writes From Fallon

Who knows what evil lurks in the hearts of men? The Shadow do.

SICK BAY — Sohner Tree Service's second place finish in the recent Tri-Counties Softball Tournament at Santa Rosa was remarkable in view of the San Anselmo team's physical condition. Looking more like the Spirit of '76 than Marin's Top softball club, the Treemen had illness or injury at every position during the six-game ordeal.

And Morey Swarm wins the Iron Man of the Year award after pitching 35 innings in five nights, losing a 1-0 heartbreaker in the championship finale. Swarm is still recuperating from a ruptured appendix.

ELMER COLLETT, the Mill Valley rookie in the 49er camp who was supposed to be tried at center, is now listed as second team offensive left guard on the San Francisco team's "three-deep" charts.

A FEW WEEKS ago I mentioned Drake High's tough football schedule this year. Tam Director of Athletics George Gustafson calls in to say his Indians have just as tough a slate with Riordan, Salesian, Monterey, Novato and Vallejo as the first five dates on the agenda.

Novatans In Ruth Finals

There are stoppers and there are stoppers.

The way the 15-year-old ace of the Novato All-Stars is hurling would put a smile on any coach. He did it again Monday night, posting another one-hitter as the All-Stars knocked off Woodland, the only other undefeated team in the Northern California Babe Ruth baseball tournament at Auburn, 3-0.

That left the All-Stars all alone in the winners bracket, where they await the survivor of the losers bracket for a championship game at 7 o'clock tonight. If they win, they'll meet Clovis for the state championship in a best two out of three series beginning Friday at Auburn. Glenn Holsclaw will hurl tonight for the All-Stars.

ALMOST MONOTONOUS

Dillon, if there is any complaint to be had against him, is getting almost monotonous.

The win was his fourth straight one-hitter. He struck out 15 giving him 56 strikeouts in 28 innings of tournament play.

Meanwhile, in a district tournament at Vallejo, the Novato 13-year-old Babe Ruth entry won a pair of games, downing Sonoma, 5-1, Saturday and Vallejo American, 7-3, yesterday.

Ex-Denver Star Joins Raider Camp

SANTA ROSA (AP) — Jerry Sturm, a seven-year veteran with the Denver Broncos, reported to the Oakland Raiders training camp yesterday.

He was assured he would be paid expenses if he didn't stick with the American Football League club.

The 29-year-old Sturm was acquired in a trade that sent Rich Tyson, Ray Shmautz, and Richard Jackson to the Broncos for end Lionel Taylor and Sturm.

The Raiders are having holdout problems with Clem Daniels, all AFL halfback. Daniels was manning the counter in his Oakland liquor store and said he won't report until he has signed a 1967 contract. He said the Raiders haven't contacted him since their training camp opened.

A club spokesman said there had been no developments in negotiations with Daniels.

Swim Team In Pan-Am Spotlight

By JOHN . GRIFFIN

WINNIPEG, Canada (UPI—The Yanks will be panning for gold in a water hole on the prairie today—and they just might come up with a clean sweep of six gold medals in swimming in the Pan-American Games.

A couple of pony-tailed blondes who figure to finish 1-2 in women's springboard diving and two record-busting freestyle swimmers set the stage for this big medal haul when they dominated preliminary competition in their events yesterday.

Even the U.S. officials admit that, when today's splashing at the plush Pan-Am pool in this prairie city is finished, the United States should have added considerably to its current lead both in gold medals and total medals. The Yanks had two gold and, with one silver yesterday in equestrian dressage, a total of three medals starting today.

TWO IN CONTENTION

Sue Gossick of Tarzana, Calif., and Micky King of Ann Arbor, Mich., lead the way into the last three dives in the women's 3-meter springboard event with a substantial margin over the field.

Micky, an Air Force lieutenant, is celebrating her 23rd birthday today and admits ,"I want that gold medal for a birthday present." But to get it she'll have to overcome the lead of 497.80 points to 488.50 that 19-year-old Sue enjoyed after seven preliminary dives yesterday.

Leading the way into the final of the men's 100-meter freestyle was Zachary Zorn of Buena Park, Calif., who set a Pan-Am record of 53.9 seconds in his trial heat. With him is Don Havens of Granada Hills, Calif.

Parks Nixes 'Best Offer' From 49ers

Jack White, 49er general manager, said the club has made Parks the best offer ever made to a pass receiver.

A team spokesman said veteran Dick Witcher and rookie Ed McCall stood out as receivers in yesterday's drills.

Two rookies suffered minor knee injuries. They were Tom Holver, defensive end from Louisville, and Don Parker, Virginia guard.

Coach Jack Christiansen has scheduled agame type scrimmage Saturday at Miramonte High School. Charley Kreuger, a top defensive tackle, fractured a finger in yesterday's workout and likely will miss the scrimmage.

Pitchers Star In Openers Of Little League Tourney

Pitching arms, some big scores and one squeaker that ended suddenly highlighted the opening day of the District Three Little League All Star Baseball Tournament at six locations in Marin County yesterday.

The pitching performance of the day was turned in by Steve Rohrs of the San Rafael American League entry, who tamed San Geronimo on a no-hitter at Novato. Rohrs struck out 13 batters and walked only one in addition to starting a seven-run rally in the fifth with a single.

ONE/HITTER

Kim Siler of the Novato American League almost matched Rohr with a one-hit, 10-0 blanking of Hamilton Loma Verde at Hamilton Air Force Base. Siler struck out 11 batters, walked two.

Catcher Mike Stanley went two-for-three with a homer and Mark Whitburn contributed a three-run homer for Novato.

The squeaker of the day came in Twin Cities where Twin Cities pulled out a 1-0 victory in seven innings over Mill Valley American.

STIKES OUT 15

Hoza Wright hurled a three-hitter in Novato National's 9-0 vicotry over Mill Valley National at Novato, thereby eliminating both Mill Valley entries on opening day. He struck out 15.

Wright got all the help he needed when third baseman Jim Askim powdered a 300-foot homer with the bases loaded in the third inning. Russ Nelson and Rick Butler had two hits apiece for Novato. Wright got out of a bases-loaded jam in the sixth by striking out the last two batters.

Sausalito slammed Gallinas Valley, 14-2, with an 18-hit attack and a three-hitter by William Duvall at San Anselmo.

Mike McBride spiced the affair with a leadoff homer in the third while Levester Hall with four hits, Russell Knutdsen with three and Alton Hardy with two led the rest of the hitters.

Strawberry topped Tiburon, 6-2 with Steve Gorman hurling a four-hitter and getting two hits at Strawberry. Dave Payne added three hits for Strawberry.

In games tonight, San Rafael National meets Novato American at Novato; Twin Cities battles Sausalito at Sausalito; Novato National takes on San Rafael American at Hamilton Air Force Base and Strawberry meets Marinwood at Strawberry. All games are at 6 p.m.

The game at Novato will be broadcast by KTIM.

Cubs Take Chance And It Backfires

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Pete Reiser went for the tie last night but you could never accuse him of playing it safe like Ara Parseghian.

With first place at stake in the National League, Reiser gambled as third base coach of the Chicago Cubs.

The situation came up with two out and two on in the ninth inning and the Cubs trailing the Cards 4-2 with both clubs tied for first place. On a 3-2 pitch, pinch-hitter Al Spangler lined a shot to center field that easily scored Ernie Banks from second.

Ted Savage, who was running on the pitch, was waved home by Reiser. But Julian Javier took the relay from centerfielder Bobby Tolan and fired a strike to Tim McCarver at the plate, gunning down Savage and ending the game with the Cards 4-3 victors and holders of a one-game lead in the pennant race.

Reiser had no second thoughts about his decision.

"I don't intend to play safety first, Savage was out on the play only because of two good throws. When there's a 3-2 count, you run on the play, there's no reason to play safety first just because you're fighting for first place. I never played that way and I'm not going to coach that way."

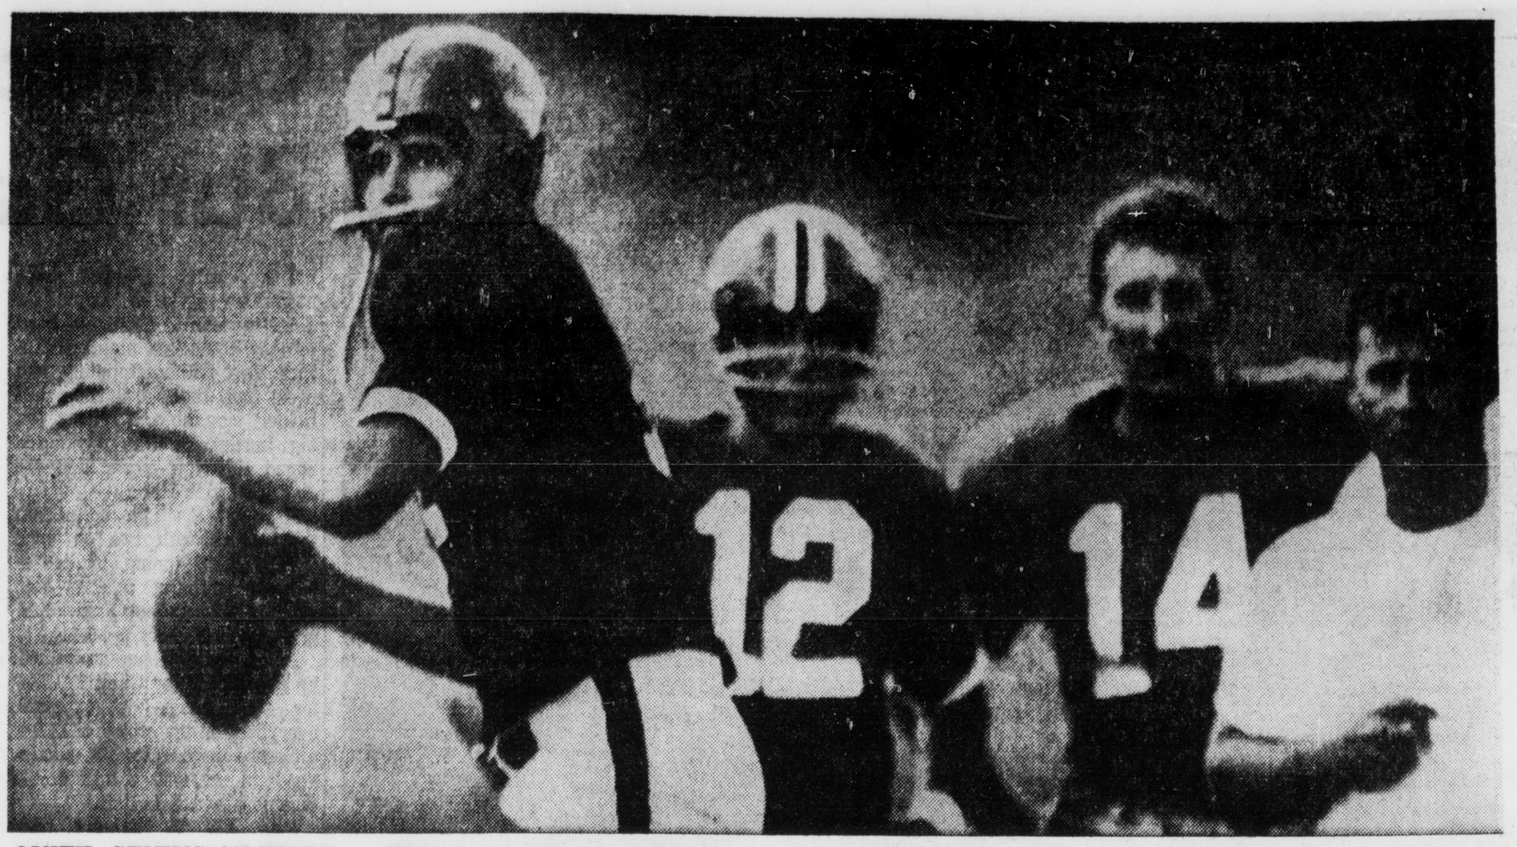
Orlando Cepeda triggered a three-run rally off Rog Gardner and Bob Shaw in the first inning and singled in what proved to be the winning run in the fourth. Lou Brock's speed set it up, however, as he went from second to third on Roger Maris' grounder to shortstop, just beating Don Kessinger's throw. He then scored on Cepeda's single.

The Cards and the Cubs will now play the "rubber" game of their three game series tonight with the Cubs needing a victory to move back into a tie for first place.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia whipped Houston 12-7, San Francisco edged New York 5-4, Los Angeles topped Pittsburgh 3-1, and Atlanta blanked Cincinnati 1-0.

Pat Jarvis pitched a two-hitter and Woody Woodward singled home Denis Menke in the fifth to give the Braves a 1-0 victory over the Reds. The lone run in the game came when Menke led off the fifth with a triple and Woodward followed with his single.

Bill Singer pitched a seven-hitter and Bob Bailey knocked in two runs to give the Dodgers the triumph over the Pirates. Bailey's sacrifice fly in the second capped a two-run inning and he knocked in the final run of the game in the fifth with a single to pin the loss on Vernon Law (0-6).



QUIET, GENIUS AT WORK — Well, he hasn't quite achieved that status yet, but second year man Randy Johnson appears to have the quarterback's job all sewed up with the Atlanta Falcons this year. Here he looks for receiver while understudies Steve Sloan (12) and Terry Nofsinger (14) and special coach Eddie LeBaron watch at Johnson City, Tenn., training camp. (AP Wirephoto)

Oakland Clippers Host St. Louis

The first place Oakland Clippers of the National Professional Soccer League host the second-place St. Louis Stars at 8 o'clock tonight, hoping to halt a four-game Stars winning streak that has them in a position to chase the Clippers down to the wire.

Both temas have nine games to play. Oakland is 14-5-4, St. Louis 10-7-6. While the Stars have been rolling, the Clippers have had problems during the past three weeks, winning just three of seven. In three previous meetings, the Stars won 2-1 and 3-1 in St. Louis and lost at Oakland 2-1.

Namath Hurts Other Knee

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The $400,000 star quarterback for the New York Jets of the American Football League strained a tendon below his left kneecap in the Jets' training camp at Peekskill, N.Y. yesterday.

Dr. James Nicholas, the Jets' physician, taped up the knee and the former Alabama All-America resumed practice.

"It does not appear to be serious, but we'll have to wait a day or two to be sure," said Dr. Nicholas. He advised Coach Weeb Ewbank to keep a sharp eye on Namath for several days.

In 1966, his second as a pro, the 202-pound Namath turned in the league's best performance by completing 232 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards, including 19 TD heaves. He had been confident of having his best year ever in 1967. Now, for a few days at least, his future appears uncertain.

The Namath incident was one of the highlights yesterday as the pros in both leagues, the AFL and NFL, continued to drill for exhibition games.

Leslie Duncan and Kenny Graham, two of the three San Diego Charger players, fined $1,000 each by Coach Sid Gillman for leaving camp Monday, returned to the base at Escondido, Calif., yesterday and were re-instated.

It cost Duncan and Graham each $1,200, the $1,000 fine plus $100 for each day of practice missed. Fullback Gene Foster, who left with defensive backs Duncan and Graham, did not return and remains suspended indefinitely.

BOATING

Preparation Pays Off In Case Of Emergency

By STAN DAVIES

Have you ever thought what you would do if one of the following emergencies occurred some day while you are out in your boat?

1. Some passenger fell overboard.

2. You ran up on a rocky reef.

3. You ran onto a sandy shoal.

4. A fire suddenly flared up in your fuel tank or engine compartment.

Remember, these things happen every day to somebody, somewhere. The people who do the right thing often don't realize there even was an emergency; those who do the wrong thing sometimes pay for the mistake with their lives.

Who is more likely to do the right thing? Safety experts tell us that it's the person who has thought about the emergency ahead of time, and thought out exactly what he would do.

This type of boater has a mental image of precisely where the lifejackets are stowed and how to grab them in a hurry. He knows where every fire extinguisher is hanging and how to operate it without losing a second. He has probably run through a few emergency drills with his family, so that they too would be likely to do the right thing.

FOR INSTANCE, for someone overboard, the thing to do is to immediately throw the person in the water a ring buoy, or life preserver, or anything that floats and can be hung on to. Then turn the boat to be upwind from the victim, cut the engine and let the boat drift to the rescue point.

If you run up on a rocky reef, stay put for a few seconds until someone goes below to see if the boat has been holed. If it has, stay on the reef. To back off into deeper water could be infinitely more dangerous than being on the rocks.

However if you run up on a sand spit, throw the engine or outboard into reverse immediately, then, as the following wave from your wake catches up and gives you a lift, you are likely to back off without damage.

IF A FIRE flares up from a fuel tank or engine area, chances of putting it out often exist for only the first few seconds before much heat has had time to develop. Grab and extinguisher and give the fire as big a burst of chemical, CO2 or foam as possible. Don't try to save the extinguisher. Seconds count.

Here are some questions I've been asked on the subject of sudden emergencies:

Q. Everybody says, if swamped, stay with the boat. I'm a champion swimmer. Why should I?

A. I think you'd be safer if you hung on to the boat and by paddling with your hands and feet worked it to shallow water. Statistics are against swimming for shore, no matter how good you are. They show that the good swimmer who takes off is drowned far more frequently then the poor swimmer who stayed with the boat.

Q. What would you do if you lost your propeller?

A. This happened to Carl Baughman of Miami, Fla., out in a 14-foot outboard. He carved a prop from the oak handle of a gaff and brought the boat in against the tide.

Q. Is there any substitute for a life-buoy ring?

A. Almost anything that floats and can be grasped may save a person in danger in the water. I knew a man who couldn't swim but saved a life by taking the spare wheel off of his car and throwing it to a person about to drown in a slip used by big ocean going ships. Your spare will float.

Q. How big an anchor should one carry?

A. Big enough (and strong enough) so that if your engine should quit and the wind is blowing you on to a rocky lee shore, it will hold your boat in the roughest conditions the boat could hope to survive. Invest in a big anchor and 250 feet of nylon anchor line.

San Rafael City Golf Fee Reduced

The San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that the participation fee for its San Rafael City Amateur Golf Championship Saturday ate the San Geronimo National Golf Course has been reduced from $15 to $10 in an effort to spur entries, which are lagging far behind last year's rate.

The tournament will feature medal ply, three divisions of handicap play, Callaway competition, a hole-in-one contest and a putting contest. A new automobile will go to the first golfer to score a hole-in-one, while winner of the a special putting contest will get a trip to Las Vegas.

Among the entrants is Rob Schultz, the low gross winner last year. Low net winner Frank Conti will be unable to play.

Entry may be made up to Saturday. Starting times will be available at the San Geronimo pro shop.

Cal's Team Clinches Slow Pitch Pennant

San Rafael Recreation Department's grand finale for its 16-inch slow pitch softball league wound up a cliff-hanger last night as Cal's Steakhouse won a squeaker, 7-6 from Cliff's Chevron in a playoff game at Albert Field.

U.S. Divers Top Pam-Am Qualifying

Pamela Kurse of Pompano Beach, Fla., set a Pan-Am record of 2:15.7 in her heat of the women's 200-meter freestyle yesterday but may not even be the favorite in tonight's finals. Lillian (Pokey) Watson of Portola Valley, Calif., the world record holder at 2:10.5, was obviously loafing as she won her heat in 2:16.9.

Morning trials were scheduled today in the women's 200-meter breaststroke, men's 200-meter butterfly, and women's 200-meter backstroke, and all six of these finals are in the evening.

The U.S. men's basketball team started its march toward an expected gold medal last night with a shattering 131-43 rout of Colombia that sent the experts running to the record books.

On the evening program today for the Yank cagers was a clash with Peru that appeared likely to wind up the same way.

Davis Cupper Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., the top U.S. ace, was forced to rally to beat Patricio Rodriguez of Chile, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 8-6.

Marin Players On All-Tourney

Outfielder Art Donati and second baseman Ron McCamish of the runner-up Sohner Tree Service team of San Anselmo were selected on the All-Tri Counties Softball Tournament team following last week's games at Santa Rosa.

Sohner's first baseman Nolan Wilson, catcher Jess Munyon and centerfielder Keith Fraser were named to the second team.

Francis Realty of Santa Rosa defeated Sohner 1-0 in the championship finals. The Marin team had a 4-2 won-lost record in the week-long tournament.

Comedy At Candlestick; Giants Win It In Ninth

Alou threw it back in and someone in the infield grabbed it before poor Perry could pick it up and throw it back out to him. Two runs scored, doubling Sullivan's RBI total, and the tying run lighted on third base as Sullivan held first. There was still just one out.

Manager Herman Franks led the befuddled Perry off to a padded locker room as Frank Linzy came in to stem the Giant — er, Met tide. Linzy got into the spirit of the hour immediately by allowing the tying run to score as he threw out Larry Stahl at first base. Stahl had chopped one high in the air and Linzy figured he had better get a sure out. He got the next man, too, as the lead run died at second base.

The baseball version of "Sweet Charity" was not over, though, for the Mets had their part to play as well. Relief pitcher Hal Reniff had not allowed a run in 21 National League innings, but he walked Haller to lead off the bottom of the ninth. First baseman Ed Kranepool then threw low to second on Hal Lanier's attempted sacrifice.

Franks then pulled Tito Fuentes and his .190 batting average and sent Bob Schroder up to sacrifice, which he did to move Haller and Lanier to second and third. Reniff hit Jim Davenport with his first pitch to bring Alou up with the bases loaded.

Linzy got the win, which he admitted later he would rather Perry had received. Perry figured he was fortunate not to have lost.

The Giants and Mets played a matinee version of their light comedy this afternoon. Rookie sensation Tom Seaver (9-6) was to pitch for New York and Ray Sadecki or the injured Juan Marichal for the Giants, who open a three-game series with Philadelphia tomorrow afternoon.

Los Angeles Dodger attendance, down 300,000 from last season at this point, climbed over the million mark last night when 24,348 saw the eighth-place defending National League champions defeat Pittsburgh 3-1.

The Dodger total for 43 games and 41 dates is 1,004,647. St. Louis and New York already passed one million, the Cardinals in their 45th game and the Mets in their 48th.

FOOTBALL

LOWELL, Mass. — Tom Dempsey, born without a right foot, kicked an 18-yard field goal late in the fourth quarter last night to give the Lowell Giants a 3-0 win over the Boston Patriot rookies.

Dempsey, a Californian who paid his own way to Connecticut to try to make the Lowell squad, kicks with tape wrapped around the stump where a foot never grew. He missed field goal attempts of 30 and 38 yards and had another one blocked before scoring with 2:26 left in the game.

MANKATO, Minn. — End Preston Carpenter, 33, an 11-year National Football League veteran, was released yesterday by the Minnesota Vikings, who acquired him from Washington in mid-season last year for a sixth-round draft choice.

BOXING

ROME — The European Boxing Union yesterday revoked recognition of Karl Mildenberger as European Heavyweight Champion because the West German lefthander will be unable to defend his title for six months while he participates in a world championship elimination tournament. The tournament is to find a successor to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, who lost recognition of his title when he refused induction into the U.S. Army. The European Union did not state whether it plans a tournament to find Mildenberger's successor.

TENNIS

PHILADELPHIA — Austrian Owen Davidson, fourth-seeded in the 68th Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championships, flew for 20 hours to get here in time for his first round match yesterday and promptly lost it to unseeded Ronald Goldman of Washington, D.C., 6-3, 6-2. Goldman then lost his next match.

All other seeded players advanced, although top seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa was hard-pressed by Dick Sorlien 4-6, 6-2, 6-4.

GOLF

ROCHESTER, Minn. — Martha Wilkinson of Yorbalinda, Calif., defeated Paulette Erickson of Decatur, Ga., 7 and 6 yesterday in the second round of the Trans-Mississippi Women's Amateur Championship.

SOCCER

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles toros of the National Professional Soccer League yesterday sold halfback Dragan Djukic to the league-leading Oakland Clippers.

Lowell Captures Cage Showdown

Last night's big showdown between Lowell and New Pisa (Poly) in the Drake High School Summer Basketball League turned into a low scoring duel won by Lowell, 48-45.

That gave Lowell a 6-0 record and dropped New Pisa from the undefeated ranks with a 5-1 mark. Mike Charles of Lowell and Joe Smith of New Pisa had 15 each.

In other games, Riordan polished of McGillicuddy Construction, 52-51, and the Bulldogs (San Rafael), whipped John Sweet, 60-47. Mike Aherne scored 15 points for Novato and Gary Welch led San Rafael with 18 points.

ASSEMBLY TRIMS TAX INCREASE

Administration Claims 'Underfinancing' Will Lead To Another Major Tax Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The legislative sponsor of Gov. Ronald Reagan's $1 billion tax increase charged today amendments hung on the bill by the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee will lead to another major tax hike next year.

The committee approved the bill yesterday after reducing it by about $50 million and writing in a promise of property tax relief next year for both the homeowner and the businessman.

'UNDERFINANCED'

But Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach, said the amendments leave the bill grossly "underfinanced." Unless they are removed, he said, the governor will have to ask for another tax increase next year.

He said he would ask the Assembly Ways and Means Committee — the bill's next stop in the long legislative process—to eliminate the amendments.

The Ways and Means Committee was expected to hold its first hearing on the measure tomorrow.

If the bill passes the Assembly in its present form, Deukmejian added, he will ask the Senate to reject all Assembly amendments and send the measure to a Senate-Assembly conference committee to draft a compromise.

CUTS TAXATION

The Revenue and Taxation Committee pared the total tax increase down to $944 million by eliminating Reagan's plan to extend the sales tax to repair services and rejecting the administration's request for an increase in the insurance tax from 2.35 per cent to 2.6 per cent.

The committee also earmarked $145 million — $25 million more than Reagan requested — for increased aid to the schools in this fiscal year. The provision was tied to Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh's school finance measure.

But the changes which aroused most of the administration's opposition will not take effect until the fiscal year that begins July 1, 1968. They would:

Provide $310 million in increased aid to school districts with a requirement that $180 million of the money must be used for property tax relief.

'SEED MONEY'

Earmark $35 million as "seed money" to begin elimination of the business inventory tax and the property tax on furniture and household goods. Total elimination of the two taxes would cost at least $275 million a year in replacement revenue.

Almost forgotten in the furor over the amendments was the fact that the committee approved most of the major provisions of Reagan's tax program.

Accepted without change was the governor's proposal for a 1 cent on the dollar increase in the sales tax, a $327 million a year increase in personal income taxes, a $130.5 million hike in bank and corporation taxes, a 50 cent a gallon increase in liquor taxes, a 7 cent a pack increase in the cigarette levy and a $11.4 million boost in the inheritance tax.

INSTALL PLAN

The committee also approved Reagan's plan for a twice - a - year installment payments of higher bracket personal income taxes and added an acceleration of the bank and corporation tax that the governor did not request. The bill would require banks and corporations to pay 25 per cent of their tax in November to help the state over its winter "cash flow" crisis.

The committee hammered out the amendments in an eight-hour closed - door session, then adopted them at a public meeting.

Reagan said earlier yesterday that if the legislature cuts his tax bill by the $50 million suggested by the committee, he would have to order state spending reduced by a like figure.

And he warned the cuts may be in programs "near and dear" to some lawmakers.

Soft Drinks, Candy Stolen From Park

Seventy-two bottles of soft drinks and several boxes of red and black licorice and other candies were stolen between 5 p.m. Sunday and 7:45 a.m. Monday, San Rafael Police reported today.

The items, owned by Lithfield's Concessions of 737 Francisco Boulevard, were stolen from the equipment room at Albert Park grandstand, Albert Park Lane, after someone kicked in a door and broke two locks to the building. Value of the merchandise was reported.

Curbs On Benefits Proposed To Trim Medi-Cal Expenses

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Health and Welfare Administrator Spencer Williams has listed action the Reagan Administration must take to control the burgeoning costs of the Medi-Cal program.

Williams said yesterday the administration must limit benefits, restrict eligibility or impose a fee schedule on physicians to hold down Medi-Cal costs.

He discussed a recently - discovered $150 million deficit in the program with legislators, health and medical service representatives and state officials.

Williams said about half of the deficit must be paid by the state general fund. The other half must be financed by the federal government and by counties.

Under a Medi-Cal cost control bill passed by the legislature earlier this year, Williams is required to take administrative steps to keep the program within its budget.

He has scheduled an emergency meeting of the Health Review Program Council Aug. 4 to discuss specific moves.

Williams declined to talk about details in advance of the meeting. However, he did say costs could be cut by reducing services available under the program, imposing a schedule of maximum fees the state will pay doctors and other vendors, restricting eligibility or a combination of all three.

Part of the deficit is purely on paper, a sort of reverse windfall, Williams said. But it must be paid off this year even though it probably will not recur in subsequent years.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch has released an opinion that the law requires the Medi-Cal program to show expenses on its books when the services are rendered to a beneficiary, not when the bill is eventually paid. Sometimes there is a lag of two months or more between performance of the service and payment of the bill.

Conversion to the accrual accounting system recommended by Lynch accounted for about $80 million of the $150 million deficit, state figures disclosed.

Carel Mulder, director of health care services, said part of the rest of the deficit was due to a preference on the part of recipients for private general hospitals instead of county hospitals. Under Medi - Cal law, a recipient can choose his hospital.

Customer Must Be Jet Setter

STANSTED, England (UPI)—A real estate agent who wants to sell a 150,000 pound ($420,000) mansion near the site of a new international airport in this London suburb has a jet set customer in mind.

"For Sale," reads the sign outside. "London 45 minutes away. New York Six Hours Away."

The agent said anyone paying that much money for a home is as likely to fly to New York as drive to London.

Reagan Outlines 'Equal Education' Plan, Including Tuition Request

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan revealed his new university and college tuition plan today—a program he said would open campus doors to students who want to learn, but can't afford an education now.

It's basically the proposal Reagan put forward last winter and had to give up for a year — to charge $250 - a - year tuition for fulltime California students at the University of California and $180 annually at the 19 campuses of the state colleges.

Adoption of the program would end a century of no tuition for resident students in the state-supported higher education system.

The present system, he said, has "taxed the poor to support higher education" while depriving the economically needy — particularly from minority groups — the chance to go to the university and colleges.

Reagan outlined an "Equal Education" plan for use of the funds to be raised if tuition is adopted — an estimated $55 million during the 1968-69 school year when it would first be in effect.

He outlined the proposal in remarks for delivery to the Los Angeles Breakfast Club.

The program apparently is designed to attract support of teachers and administrators who rebelled when Reagan first proposed levying tuition last January.

He is expected to submit the plan to the university regents at a special tuition meeting at the end of August, but noted he is not "wedded" to the method of dispersing the income from tuition. Only the legislature has authority to impose tuition at the colleges.

His suggestion is that 50 per cent of the total go for student grants and loans; 25 per cent for the special faculty positions and the other quarter for construction.

Reagan said it costs a student about $2,000 for a year for proposed tuition, fees, room and board, books and other expenses.

He proposes that qualified needy student borrow 75 per cent of the cost from the state the first year and get 25 per cent in scholarships.

The second year, the student would borrow half the cost and get half in grants. The third year it would be 25 per cent borrowed and a 75 per cent grant.

The loans would not have to be paid back until after graduation and the student has an income.

The City of San Rafael has C Paul Bettini as mayor.

'Paint-Up' Of Buildings Begin

The chamber of commerce contracted Monday with Robert V. Kunst, San Rafael painting contractor, to do nine buildings for $4,460, reported Granville, L. Beedle, chamber secretary-manager.

Kunst previously bid $22,000 for 38 buildings, but separate contracts will be signed as additional buildings join the rejuvenation program.

San Rafael Planners Delay Hillside Vote

San Rafael planning commissioners hesitated last night over a proposed re-subdivision of Terra Linda unit 21-A which would violate the city's slope policy covering hillside cuts.

There wasn't a vote on the proposal, but Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. called for a poll which showed that four commissioners would consider favoring re-subdivision Commissioners Pat Hetherton and Joseph J. Garbarino would oppose it.

The choice was between the proposal for a 99-lot subdivision, west of Elda Court and north Lea Drive and the original 81-lot map, filed before the slope policy was adopted, and also in violation of that policy.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner said the new plan by Alameda Homes Corp. would create a subdivision "where about 60 per cent of the lots don't meet present laws."

Hotchner recommended denial and said the present plan would require more cuts and fill than the original plan.

John Kenney of Kenney Homes, Oakland, contended that the proposed re-subdivision would be an improvement and "a better way to utilize land."

The proposed grading "is a mass movement of earth related to large areas of the hillside," Hotchner said.

The commission postponed action for two weeks and asked the staff to draw up conditions which could be attached to approval of the re-subdivision.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

BRIDGE CLUB — Granted Maxine and Everett Cantrell a use permit to operate a bridge studio, bridge club, at 215 West End Avenue, to operate Thursday and Friday evenings, Saturday afternoon and some Sunday evenings.

RADIO TOWER — Granted Wesley Loudon a permit to install a crank-up radio transmission tower at 9 Junipero Serra, which would be 20 feet high at the low position and 54 feet high during operation. No neighbors protested.

CHURCH USE — Granted Charles W. Aby a use permit and architectural approval for the use of a building at 26 H Street by the Unity of Marin church group, Sundays and Wednesdays.

The commission was operating with six members since a successor to Daniel L. Connell hasn't been appointed.

Girls Injured In Car Smashup

Two San Rafael girls were injured at 9:24 p.m. yesterday when their car collided with three parked cars in front of 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, police said today.

The driver of the car, Patricia Rooney, 17, of 192 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was treated and released from Marin General Hospital with multiple cuts and scrapes.

Powell Claims Riots Necessary

BIMINI, Bahamas (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell said today the riots in Detroit and other American cities "are a necessary phase of the black revolution — necessary."

And Powell, at a news conference on this tiny British island where he lives in self-imposed exile, said new Negro rioting would "explode" in 12 American areas unless Negroes are nominated to Congress by Sept. 1.

Grass, Barn Fire At Victims' Ranch

Fire broke out just before noon today on the Everett F. Zimmerman property on San Antonio Road, north of Novato near the Sonoma County line. The Novato Fire Department reported a barn was involved, along with grass.

Zimmerman and his wife were murdered last Aug. 29. Robert D. Sidbeck, a Marine from San Anselmo, is serving a life sentence for the slayings.

Session Delayed

A special meeting set for last night by Marin County Housing Authority was postponed to 8 p.m. today in the authority office, 429 Drake Avenue, Marin City. Donald O. Stutsman, authority director, is to report on the status of authority projects.

Bolinas Harbor Budget To Be Set

Bolinas Harbor District commissioners are to adopt a final budget for fiscal 1967-68 when they meet 8 p.m. tomorrow at Stinson Beach Community Center.

Commissioners adopted a preliminary $25,500 preliminary budget June 22, almost double the $15,000 budgeted last fiscal year. The increase is for planning studies of the lagoon, board President Gene W. McDaniel explained.

Purse Stolen

Carol Lyons, a teacher in Marin City's Pre-School Center, reported yesterday to sheriff's deputies that her purse, containing $10 in cash, was stolen last Wednesday when she left it for about five minutes aboard the school bus in front of the center.

Tito Plans Cairo Visit For Meeting With Nasser

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Tito of Yugoslavia, one of Egypt's staunchest noncombat supporters in the war with Israel, will visit Cairo "within the next few days" to discuss the Middle East situation with President Gamal Abdel Nasser, the semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram said today.

Yugoslavia spearheaded the unsuccessful attempt by nonaligned nations at the United Nations to win General Assembly approval of a resolution demanding unconditional Israeli withdrawal from the territory won from the Arab states in the lightning war.

Diplomats in Belgrade said recently that the Kremlin is counting on Tito's influence with Arab leaders to repair the damage Israel's military victory inflicted on the Soviet Union's reputation in the Arab world.

Egypt sought to bolster its nearly bankrupt economy yesterday with a new austerity budget including tax increases, higher prices and drastic reductions in government spending. Such commodities as sugar, tea, cooking oil, cigarettes and beverages will cost 10 to 20 per cent more. Sales taxes on cars and spare parts to up 50 per cent, and a new national security tax raises defense taxes the same amount. Government subsidies on rationed food and other essential items were reduced.

In Amman, Jordan's King Hussein told Parliament an Arab summit meeting was needed now "more than any time before."

Moslem non-Arab leaders of Iran, Pakistan and Turkey are scheduled to hold secret talks at a Caspain Sea resort Saturday to "review Middle Eastern problems." Informed sources in Tehran said Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Turkish President Cevdet Sunay and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan would confer at the resort town of Ramsar.

In Jerusalem, Rabbi Pesach Levovitz, president of the U.S. Rabbinical Council, said the council would launch a campaign to have American Jewish families send at least one member to Israel, either as a permanent resident or for a prolonged stay.

In the Sinai Desert, Israeli troops are still digging Egyptian military equipment out of the sand dunes where the Arabs abandoned them.

Marin Youths Win Horse Show Honors

Ribbon winners were: Didi Woods, Bob Williams, Michele Bledsoe, Kathy Tohill, and Lisa Shields of San Anselmo; Peter Larson of Novato; Lise Weissich and Robin Williams of San Rafael; Linda Larson of Fairfax, and Dick Zoellner of Ross.

Beach Purchase For Park Near

Purchase of 19 acres of Muir Beach for expansion of Tamalpais State Park is imminent, Marin Supervisor Peter H. Behr said yesterday.

The State Park and Recreation Commission has given the purchase first priority in the $4 million expansion program, Behr said.

An anonymous donation of $125,000 was received last month to buy the property from 10 persons. The state has agreed to put up the rest of the $250,000 price tag.

TV Set Stolen

Karoline Ocheltree, 101-S Hilarita Housing, Tiburon, reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday that when she returned home at 11:30 a.m. she found the front door of her apartment had been forced open and her portable television set taken.

Marin Jury Finds Couple Guilty Of Plot To Smuggle Marijuana

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Convicted child-beater Eugene O. Boehm and his common-law wife, Roberta Marie Buckley were found guilty last night of conspiring to smuggle marijuana into Marin County jail.

The verdict was reached by a Marin Superior Court jury after 90 minutes deliberation and ended a trial that began two weeks ago to the day.

Mrs. Buckley was further found guilty of possession of marijuana. Judge Samuel W. Gardiner set sentencing for Aug. 16 at 10 a.m.

The judge denied bail for Mrs. Buckley despite a plea by her attorney, David Costamagna. "The least she can expect is a term in the county jail," said Judge Gardiner, "and time served now will be taken into consideration."

Boehm is at present serving a year in jail imposed Jan. 3 on a child-beating charge. He was convicted of beating Mrs. Buckley's 16-month-old son, Timothy Wayne Buckley, last August. The child died.

In the seven trial days since July 11, a total of 16 witnesses gave evidence, from jail inmates to Marin County sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

The conspiracy, as presented by Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunino, began in cell 3 in the county jail on the afternoon of March 2.

Boehm approached his cell mate Merton Wesley Spaulding, 21-year-old convicted car thief, to help him smuggle marijuana into the jail. An earlier plan had fallen through but Boehm assured Spaulding his wife would help.

"In jail, marijuana is called 'stuff,' " Spaulding said on the witness stand. "They talk abut it all the time."

Boehm talked to his wife by telephone from jail and the drop was arranged for three days later.

She returned but this time she was carrying a package in the fold of a magazine. Two trustee inmates, lounging outside the jail, turned their heads to watch the pert, blonde woman walk by.

One of the inmates, Frank Borgess, said he saw her drop the package in a garbage can on her way through to the jail. After she had left the jail a second time, the inmate walked over and picked out the package and reported the incident to deputies.

The package of marijuana was returned to the can, a stake-out organized and Spaulding arrested after he picked up the contraband and had tried to smuggle it into the jail stuffed in his shirt.

There was enough marijuana in the package to make 40 to 50 cigarettes and Spaulding and Boehm were immediately charged with conspiracy. Mrs. Buckley surrendered voluntarily two days later after a warrant had been issued for her arrest.

Defense attorneys Costamagna and A. Leonard Bjorkland, for Boehm, strove to drive a wedge into the prosecution using the credibility of witnesses as a hammer. Costamagna said Spaulding was untrustworthy and it was unlikely he would "help a friend in jail" when, in fact, "he did not have any."

Mrs. Buckley, through her attorney, said she had dropped nothing but an empty paper bag in the garbage can. Boehm denied all knowledge of the conspiracy.

Meeting Canceled

Religion Series Features Islam

Rev. Illtud Evans, a Catholic priest from England, will speak on "Islam" at 7 p.m. Friday in the second in a series of four lectures on comparative religions in Guzman Hall, Dominican College, Acacia Avenue, San Rafael.

Dr. Ludwig Lefevre, Mill Valley clinical psychologist, will speak on "A Religion of Unbelief?" at 1:30 p.m. Aug. 2, and Rev. Janko Zagar of St. Albert's College, Oakland, will talk on "Marxism as a Religion" at 1:30 p.m. Aug. 3.

The first lecture was to be given at 1:30 p.m. today by Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom, Santa Venetia, on "Judaism: Faith and Practice."

Hearing Scheduled For Camp Escapee

Kenneth Arnold Kluever, 28, of San Rafael, who was recaptured 25 hours after his escape last Thursday from a Humboldt County honor camp, was arraigned yesterday and a preliminary hearing set for Monday, Aug. 7 in Eureka Municipal Court.

He remains in Humboldt County jail on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, car theft, and escape.

Drunken Driving

After pleading guilty to drunken driving on Bridgeway, Sausalito, July 8, Douglas A. Ward, 29, of San Francisco was fined $230 in Marin Municipal Court Monday, placed on probation and was restricted from driving for 90 days.

Man Who Aided Crash Victim Is Honored

Dennis J. Corr of 120 Lower Via Casitas, Greenbrae, was awarded the California Highway Patrol's certificate for community service Monday for the part he played in saving the life of a 23-year-old Petaluma woman June 2.

The woman, Gail Barber, who lost a leg as a reslut of ta traffic accident at the Highway 37 and Highway 121 intersection in Sonoma County, might have bled to death, according to the highway patrol, had Corr, 26, not broken into the wrecked car and used his belt as a tourniquet, holding it in place for 20 minutes until an ambulance arrived.

Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow said this is the third certificate of its kind issued by the patrol since 1962.

Observation At Vacaville Set

Marin Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley Monday ordered James N. Litteral, 21, to the medical facility at Vacaville for 90 days before sentencing him on a burglary and grand theft charge.
